The owner of a patent for a classified invention (utility model) within one year from the date of receipt of the decision of the State Expert on declassification of the invention (utility model) shall have the right to file a request for a patent for an invention (utility model) with the Institution for the period remaining until the expiration of the patent for a classified invention (classified utility model). In such case, the EIF shall make appropriate amendments to the Register, publish the state registration of the invention (utility model) and grant a patent in accordance with Articles 22, 23 and 25 of this Law, provided that the relevant fees and state duty are paid;

28) To supplement Section VI with Article 27¹ as follows:

"Article 27¹. Additional Protection of Rights to Inventions

1. The owner of a patent for an invention, the object of which is the active substance of a medicinal product, the process of obtaining a medicinal product or the use of a medicinal product, animal protection agent, plant protection agent, the introduction of which into circulation in Ukraine is provided by the relevant competent authority in accordance with the laws of Ukraine, has the right to extend the period of validity of intellectual property rights to such an invention (additional protection), which is certified by a certificate.

The certificate of additional protection shall be issued upon request of the patent owner. A fee shall be paid for filing an application.

Rights for additional protection shall be limited to a product (active substance or a set of active pharmaceutical ingredients of a medicinal product), the introduction into circulation of which in Ukraine is permitted by the relevant competent authority in accordance with the legislation of Ukraine, and its use in accordance with the quality of a medicinal product, animal protection product, plant protection product within the rights granted by the respective patent on the date of filing a petition for the issue of a certificate of additional protection, and shall be effective on the following occasions.

The owner of a patent for an invention, the object of which is a medicinal product, animal protection agent, plant protection agent, has the right to extend the validity of property rights of intellectual property, if an application for permission of the competent authority to introduce a medicinal product, animal protection agent, plant protection agent into civil circulation in Ukraine was filed within one year from the date of filing such an application for the first time in any country.

2. The term of additional protection is equal to the period between the date of filing an application with the Institution and the date when the patent owner received the first permission of the competent authority, reduced by five years.

The period of additional protection may not exceed five years.

For an invention, the subject matter of which is the active substance of a medicinal product, in respect of which studies have been carried out in the field of application for children, the results of which are reflected in the information about the medicinal product, for which a permission of the relevant competent authority has been issued, the periods of additional protection specified in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Part shall continue for six months.

3. An application for additional protection must be received by the Foundation within six months from the date of publication of the information on the state registration of the invention or the date of issue of the first authorization by the relevant competent authority (whichever is later). The documents confirming the right of the patent owner to additional protection shall be attached to the application.

An application shall be considered by the expert authority in the procedure defined by the Federal Executive Body, which ensures the formation of state policy in the field of intellectual property.

4. If the submitted documents confirm the right of the patent holder for additional protection, the Institution shall register the additional protection by entering the relevant information into the Register. Simultaneously with the state registration of additional protection, the Office publishes information about such registration in the Bulletin. The Institution issues a certificate of additional protection within one month after the state registration of additional protection.

5. The rights and obligations of the owner of the additional protection certificate shall be the same as those of the owner of the corresponding patent, subject to the restrictions set forth in part 1 of this Article.

6. Provided that the requirements specified in this part are met, such use of the invention during the term of its additional protection shall not be considered a violation of the rights to the invention:

1) Manufacturing of a product or a medicinal product containing a product with the use of a patented invention for export to third countries, as well as other actions, which in accordance with this Law are recognized as use of the invention if they are necessary for manufacturing of the product or medicinal product containing the product for export to third countries;

2) manufacturing of a product or a medicinal product containing a product with the use of the patented invention not earlier than six months prior to the expiration of the term of additional protection for the purpose of its storage for putting into circulation after the expiration of the term of additional protection, as well as other actions, which according to this Law are recognized as use of the invention if they are necessary for manufacturing of the product or medicinal product containing the product and its storage not earlier than the mentioned term.

A person who intends to manufacture a product or a medicinal product containing a product using a patented invention during the period of additional protection is obliged to put the information label "UA Export" on the product during its manufacture.

A person who intends to manufacture a product or medicine containing a product using a patented invention within the term of additional protection shall notify the Establishment and the owner of the additional protection certificate of such intention in writing no later than three months before the beginning of use of the invention.

The applicant's notification shall indicate his address, methods of use of the invention and the purpose of such use, number and date of issue of the certificate of additional protection. In case of manufacture of a product or medicine containing the product for export, the communication shall also indicate the authorization number of the competent authority of the third country in which the export is planned. The institution shall ensure publication of information contained in the communication.

The manufacturer of a product or a medicinal product containing a product shall be obliged to obtain written guarantees from all persons who by its order store, export or perform other actions, which according to this Part are not recognized as a violation of the rights to invention, that such product or medicinal product containing a product will not be used otherwise than for export or storage in accordance with the procedure established by law.

7. A fee shall be paid for each full or partial year of validity of the additional protection certificate in accordance with the procedure defined in Part two of Article 32 of this Law.

8. Termination of the validity of the additional protection certificate and recognition of its invalidity, protection of rights of the holder of the additional protection certificate shall be carried out in the procedure established for the respective patent;

6. The Chamber of Appeal does not verify the authenticity of the submitted evidence, and the responsibility for the authenticity of the provided information lies with the person who provided it. In case of reasonable doubts in the Board of the Chamber of Appeal concerning reliability of information provided in the provided documents, the Board shall have the right to request confirmation of such information.

7. Each party shall prove the circumstances to which it refers as the basis of its claims or objections.

8. Requirements to the application for recognition of the rights to the invention (utility model) as invalid, conditions and procedure for its consideration shall be defined by the central executive authority, which ensures formation of the state policy in the field of intellectual property.

9. An application for recognition of rights to the invention (utility model) as invalid shall be considered according to the rules of the Chamber of Appeal within four months from the date of receipt of the application, provided that the fee for its submission is paid. This period may be extended by two months at the request of the party to the application for recognition of the rights to the invention (utility model) as invalid and on condition that the fee is paid. The time limit for consideration of an application may be suspended on the grounds determined by the central executive body that ensures the formation of the state policy in the field of intellectual property, but not more than for two months.

10. As a result of consideration of the application, the Court of Appeal makes a reasoned decision, which is approved by the order of the Institution and sent to the parties.

11. The parties can appeal against the decision of the Court of Appeal approved by the Institution within two months from the date of its receipt.

12. The decision of the Chamber of Appeals shall enter into force from the date of its approval by the Institution's order and shall be fully published on the Institution's official website.

If the rights to an invention (utility model) are declared invalid, the Foundation informs about it in the Bulletin.

13. The rights to the invention (utility model), which have been declared invalid by the Chamber of Appeal, shall be deemed not to have entered into force on the day following the day of state registration of the invention (utility model).

Article 33². Conclusion as to whether a utility model meets the conditions of patentability

Any person may submit a motivated application to the Institution to conduct an examination of a utility model for compliance with the conditions of patentability. A fee is paid for filing an application.

An appeal shall be considered by the expert institution in accordance with the procedure established by the central executive authority ensuring formation of the state policy in the field of intellectual property. 2.

(3) The Institute shall notify the owner of a utility model patent of the receipt of an application after the amount of the fee paid for filing the application has been received by the Institute.

4. The report on the compliance of a utility model with the patentability conditions shall be sent to the person filing the patent application and the patent owner.

5. The Institution's conclusion on the compliance with the conditions of patentability may be invoked by a person, who filed an application, in case of appeal to the court or the Court of Appeal to invalidate the rights to a useful model;
