

Committee on Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures

SPS COMMITTEE THEMATIC SESSION ON THE USE OF REMOTE (VIRTUAL) AUDIT AND VERIFICATION IN REGULATORY FRAMEWORKS

TUESDAY, 21 JUNE 2022
WTO, CENTRE WILLIAM RAPPARD, GENEVA

PROGRAMME¹

The SPS Committee agreed, at its November 2021 meeting, to hold a thematic session on the Use of Remote (Virtual) Audit and Verification in Regulatory Frameworks in the margins of its June 2022 Committee meeting, based on proposals submitted by Australia.²

The COVID-19 pandemic has accelerated the use and development of methods to conduct remote assessments, such as audits and inspections, in agricultural and food supply chains. Drawing on the experiences of Members and industry, this thematic session will explore the benefits and implications associated with the use of remote assessments, including the effectiveness, reliability, and accessibility of such approaches. With international guidance emerging in this area, the thematic session will provide insight on the consistency of application of remote assessment tools across countries and the ongoing work of international organizations and standard-setting bodies such as the Codex Committee on Food Import and Export Inspection and Certification Systems (CCFICS). Overall, the thematic session will provide an opportunity to share experiences on remote assessment methods, discuss how such approaches may assist Members with meeting obligations under Annex C of the SPS Agreement, and take a closer look at the relevance and scope for future use.

The thematic session will be held in Geneva, Switzerland, on Tuesday, 21 June 2022, beginning at 10:00 (CET), and continuing in the afternoon at 15:00 (CET), as necessary. The thematic session can be attended in person or virtually through the Interprefy platform. Interpretation will be provided in English, French, and Spanish.
