Checklist of Illustrative SPS Issues for Consideration in Accessions
The People's Republic of China
12 June 2000

Commitments(by the time of accession)	WTO Reference
1. Standstill: the introduction of new standards, animal health regulations and food safety regulations shall conform to SPS Agreement principles.	All Chinese laws and regulations concerning SPS, and rules developed by State Administration for Entry-Exit Inspection & Quarantine of People's Republic of China (CIQ SA) prescribe that any newly-developed SPS standards, regulations and procedures concerning animal health and food safety shall comply with the principles of the SPS Agreement.
2. Establishment and operation of a single Contact Point for Information ("inquiry point").	China has established SPS enquiry point, which is housed CIQ SA. This has been informed to the WTO secretariat. (The former CAPQ has been integrated into CIQ SA.) Address of the Chinese SPS enquiry point: CIQ SA
3. Transparency: notification and access to documentation:	Documents can be obtained directly by the following two channels: 1. The Gazette of Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation (MOFTEC); 2. Chinese SPS enquiry point.
(a) identification of authority responsible for making notifications to the WTO and ensuring transparency obligations are met on an ongoing basis;	CIQ SA is the governing authority for SPS affairs in China. CIQ SA is also responsible for the implementation of the transparency provisions stipulated in the SPS Agreement.
(b) establish guidance or law requiring publication of proposed measures at an early stage for comment;	Article 34 and Article 35 of the Law of Legislation of the People's Republic of China (hereinafter referred as Legislation Law) stipulate that the operational arm of National People's Congress shall distribute the drafts of the legal documents under deliberation to government agencies, organizations concerned and experts for comments. Drafts of legal documents of special importance shall be made public for extensive comments. The common practice in China is always to ask for comments repeatedly when SPS regulations are being drafted. According to the SPS Agreement, China will establish relevant rules to govern soliciting public comments when regulations are being drafted.
(c) provision in law or administrative procedure to provide copies of proposed measures to WTO Members; and	As SPS agreement requires, Chinese SPS inquiry point shall notify other Members through WTO secretariat relevant SPS measures to be taken, and provide copies of the documents upon request. Relevant laws or administrative procedures are to be worked out.

Commitments(by the time of accession)	WTO Reference
(d) require in law or administrative procedure, a reasonable period of time for comment from Members and the public, and establishment of a process to take comments into account without discrimination.	Article 34 and Article 35 of the Legislation Law stipulate that the operational arm of National People's Congress shall distribute the drafts of the legal documents under deliberation to government agencies, organizations concerned and experts for comments. Drafts of legal documents of special importance shall be made public for extensive comments. Article 4, Article 5, Article 6 and Article 7 of the Law of the People's Republic of China on Foreign Trade have provisions about non-discrimination, national treatment and Most Favored Nation status. Article 9 of Provisional Rules of Implementation for Provisions to Work out Administrative Regulations promulgated by the State Council also has similar contents.
4. Necessity: measures are applied only to the extent necessary to protect human, animal or plant health.	All Chinese laws and regulations concerning SPS stipulate that SPS measures shall be applied only to the extent necessary to protect human, animal or plant health.
5. Regulations Based on Science: regulations governing animal and plant health and food safety shall be based on scientific evidence.	Chinese inspection and quarantine authorities attach great importance to the scientific nature of SPS measures. All SPS regulations are based on science.
6. Harmonization: to the extent possible, members shall follow international standards, guidelines, and recommendations in establishing SPS measures.	China has been carrying out SPS works in accordance with the standards established and recommended by relevant international organizations, and China has take an active part in the drafting of the relevant international standards on animal and plant quarantine. After China's accession to WTO, it shall continue to carry out SPS works in accordance with the relevant international standards, and make new SPS measures comply with international standards, guidelines, and recommendations as far as possible.
7. Equivalence: members shall recognize different measures that achieve the same level of protection.	China accepts different measures that achieve the same level of protection. China has signed more than 200 SPS-related agreements and protocols with more than 40 countries. China would like to hold consultations with members on relevant SPS issues on the basis of equality and with a scientific approach, and eventually reach bilateral or multilateral agreements.
8. Risk Assessment: developing scientific evidence and conducting risk assessments to ensure that measures are based on science and applied only to the extent necessary to protect health.	In the field of SPS, China has done a lot of research work, including research cooperation with some countries. In the future, such efforts would be further strengthened. Moreover, China is among the first countries to start PRA of animal and plant quarantine and food safety. China has participated in the drafting of PRA international standards and completed dozens of PRA reports. Based on the PRA results, China has lifted bans of animal and plant products from some countries respectively.

Commitments(by the time of accession)	WTO Reference
9. Regional conditions: measures take into account the regional characteristics both of the areas from which products originate and the areas for which they are destined.	China accepts SPS agreement concerning Pest- or Disease-Free Areas and Areas of Low Pest or Disease Prevalence. When China applies SPS measures, it takes into account situations both of the areas from which products originate and the areas for which they are destined.
10. Non-discrimination: measures do not arbitrarily or unjustifiably discriminate between different members or between domestic and foreign suppliers.	China shall observe SPS agreement concerning non-discrimination. When China works out SPS measures, it shall not discriminate between different members or between domestic and foreign suppliers.
11. Control, inspection and approval procedures: ensure that procedures, including systems for approval of the use of additives or for establishing tolerances for contaminants in foods, beverages or feedstuffs comply with the Agreement.	China shall observe SPS agreement when executing the control, inspection and approval procedures.
