

REPLIES TO QUESTIONNAIRE ON IMPORT LICENSING PROCEDURES

Notification under Article 7.3 of the Agreement on Import Licensing Procedures

EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES

The following notification, dated 29 July 1997, has been received from the Permanent Delegation of the European Communities.

Outline of systems

Question 1: Give a brief description of each licensing system as a whole and, with respect to each, reply to the following questions as relevant, placing all of the material with respect to a given system in sequence together, and using cross references as appropriate when elements which have already been described are also present in another system.

The Community import licensing system is based on the premise that no import licences are required except where specific products are subject to quantitative restrictions, safeguard measures or import surveillance. The Community applies no quantitative quotas to WTO Members in the industrial sector except for certain products in the textiles field. There are also a number of products subject to Community surveillance with the purpose of strengthening the control on the import trends of the products concerned.

The object of the import licensing system for agricultural products is the sound administration of market organization and to serve statistical purposes. The import licensing system is an automatic licensing system. Import licences are issued by the competent authorities in the member States to every applicant resident in the European Community. Import licences are subject to a security and they are valid in all the member States of the EC. Import licences have to be submitted with the import declaration.

Purpose and coverage of licensing

Question 2: Identify each licensing system maintained and state what products, appropriately grouped, are covered.

Question 3: The system applies to goods originating in and coming from which countries?

Licensing system	Product coverage	Country coverage
Quantitative quotas (other than textiles)	None for WTO Members	Not applicable
Community surveillance (other than textiles)	(a) Certain iron and steel products Council Reg. No. 2412/96 See Annex I ¹ (b) Certain ECSC steel products Council Reg. Nos. 2486/96, 2487/96, 7/97 and 40/97 See Annex II ¹	Third countries, except EFTA countries and countries which are parties to the EEA. Bulgaria, Romania, Czech Republic and Slovakia
Textiles
Quantitative limits	See Annex III ¹	See Annex III ¹
Surveillance	See Annex VI ¹	See Annex VI ¹

In the textiles field the Community applies two types of surveillance:

- Double-checking system;
- Single prior checking system.

Product and country coverage: See Tables A and B to Annex III of Regulation 3030/93 (annexed under Annex VI).

Regarding agricultural products see reply to question 1. The agricultural products subject to the import licensing system are listed in Annex XI. The system applies to imports from all third countries.

Tariff-rate quota systems are not considered to be covered by the Agreement on Import Licensing Procedures since in these cases licences are not "a prior condition for importation".

Question 4: Is the licensing intended to restrict the quantity or value of imports, and if not, what are its purposes? Have alternative methods of accomplishing the purposes been considered and if so which? Why have they not been adopted?

The Community applies no quantitative quotas to WTO Members in the industrial sector except for certain products in the textiles field where the licensing is intended to restrict the quantity and/or value of imports.

The purpose of the import licensing procedure for products under surveillance is to strengthen the control on the imports of textile products originating from the country concerned, in general, and, more specific, to strengthen the control on the origin of the products concerned.

As regards agricultural products, the licensing system is an automatic licensing system. See reply to question 1.

¹English only.

Question 5: Cite the law, regulation and/or administrative order under which the licensing is maintained. Is the licensing statutorily required? Does the legislation leave designation of products to be subjected to licensing to administrative discretion? Is it possible for the government (or the executive branch) to abolish the system without legislative approval?

The licensing is statutorily required. The legislation does not leave designation of products to be subjected to licensing to administrative discretion. The system cannot be abolished without legislative approval.

Procedures

Question 6: For products under restriction as to the quantity or value of imports (whether applicable globally or to a limited number of countries or whether established bilaterally or unilaterally):

I. Is information published, and where, concerning allocation of quotas and formalities of filing applications for licences? If not, how is it brought to the attention of possible importers? Of governments and export promotion bodies of exporting countries and their trade representatives? Is the overall amount published? The amount allocated to goods from each country? The maximum amount allocated to each importer? How to request any exceptions or derogations from the licensing requirement?

By publication of:

- the agreements, protocols or other arrangements on trade in textile products between the European Community and the countries concerned; and
- the Regulations as indicated under question 5.

II. How is the size of the quotas determined: on a yearly, six-monthly or quarterly basis? Are there cases where the size of quota is determined on a yearly basis but licences are issued for imports on a six-monthly or quarterly basis? In the latter case, is it necessary for importers to apply for fresh licence on a six-monthly or quarterly basis?

The size of quotas is determined on a yearly basis.

There are no cases where the size of the quota is determined on a yearly basis and where import authorizations would be issued for imports on a six-monthly or quarterly basis.

III. Are licences allotted for certain goods partly or only to domestic producers of like goods? What steps are taken to ensure that licences allocated are actually used for imports? Are unused allocations added to quotas for a succeeding period? Are the names of importers to whom licences have been allocated made known to governments and export promotion bodies of exporting countries upon request? If not, for what reason? (Indicate products to which replies relate.)

The issuing of import authorizations is not limited to domestic producers of like goods.

The competent licensing authorities notify the Commission immediately after having been informed of any quantity that is not used during the duration of validity of the import authorization. Such unused quantities are automatically transferred into the remaining quantities of the total of the Community quantitative limit for each category products and each third country concerned.

Names of importers to whom import authorizations have been allocated are not made known to governments and exporting countries, this for privacy protection reasons.

IV. From the time of announcing the opening of quotas, as indicated in I above, what is the period of time allowed for the submission of applications for licences?

The authorized imports are charged against the quantitative limits laid down for the year in which the products are shipped in the supplier country concerned.

An import authorization is issued upon presentation of an export licence issued by the exporting country. This presentation must be effected not later than 31 March of the year following that in which the goods covered by the licence have been shipped.

In exceptional circumstances the deadline for presentation of the export licence may be put back to 30 June on a duly motivated request by a member State.

V. What are the minimum and maximum lengths of time for processing applications?

The licensing authorities have to issue an import authorization within a maximum of five working days of the presentation by the importer of the original of the corresponding export licence.

VI. How much time remains, at a minimum, between the granting of licences and the date of opening of the period of importation?

Import authorizations are valid for a period of six months from the date of their issue.

VII. Is consideration of licence applications effected by a single administrative organ? Or must the application be passed on to other organs for visa, note or approval? If so, which? Does the importer have to approach more than one administrative organ?

Each member State has only one national competent authority for the issuing of import authorizations.

VIII. If the demand for licences cannot be fully satisfied, on what basis is the allocation to applicants made? First come, first served? Past performance? Is there a maximum amount to be allocated per applicant and, if so, on what basis is it determined? What provision is made for new importers? Are applications examined simultaneously or on receipt?

Import authorizations are being issued on the basis of first come, first served.

No special provisions for new importers.

Applications are examined on receipt.

IX. In the case of bilateral quotas or export restraint arrangements where export permits are issued by exporting countries, are import licences also required? If so, are licences issued automatically?

Concerning trade with WTO Members and with countries with bilateral agreements, the so-called double-checking system applies. The competent authorities of the supplier countries issue an export licence in respect of all consignments of textile products subject to the quantitative limits up to the level of those limits. The original of the export licences shall be presented by the importer for the purposes of the issue of the import authorization. An import authorization is not issued automatically but only after the Commission has confirmed that the amount requested is available within the quantitative limit in question.

X. In cases where imports are allowed on the basis of export permits only, how is the importing country informed of the effect given by the exporting countries to the understanding between the two countries?

Not applicable.

XI. Are there products for which licences are issued on condition that goods should be exported and not sold in the domestic market?

No.

Question 6 related to quantitative quotas is not relevant in agriculture.

Question 7: Where there is no quantitative limit on importation of a product or on imports from a particular country:

- (a) How far in advance of importation must application for a licence be made? Can licences be obtained within a shorter time-limit or for goods arriving at the port without a licence (for example, owing to inadvertency)?
- (b) Can a licence be granted immediately on request?
- (c) Are there any limitations as to the period of the year during which application for licence and/or importation may be made? If so, explain.
- (d) Is consideration of licence applications effected by a single administrative organ? Or must the application be passed on to other organs for visa, note or approval? If so, which? Does the importer have to approach more than one administrative organ?

For products subject to Community surveillance (other than textiles):

- (a) It is up to the applicant to decide, knowing that the document will be issued within a maximum of five working days of receipt of the application.
- (b) Five working days is a maximum (where practicable, shorter periods are possible but not mandatory).
- (c) No.
- (d) Yes, by a single organ.

For textile products subject to Community surveillance the following applies:

- (a) The licensing authorities have to issue a surveillance document within a maximum of five working days:
 - of the presentation by the importer of the original of the corresponding export licence (in the case of a double-checking system);
 - of a request being submitted by the importer (in the case of a single-checking system).
- (b) Surveillance documents are issued on the basis of first come, first served.
- (c) No.
- (d) Yes.

For agricultural products the rules are as follows:

- (a) Import licences must be presented to the customs authorities at the moment of acceptance of the import declaration. Import licences can be granted immediately, except for some products (sheepmeat and goatmeat and milk and milk products).
- (b) See reply to question 7(a) above.
- (c) No.
- (d) Several administrative organs can deliver import licences. The list of the competent authorities in the member States delivering import licences is published in the Official Journal, Series C. The application must not be passed on to other organs for approval and the importer has to approach only one administrative organ.

Question 8: Under what circumstances may an application for a licence be refused other than failure to meet the ordinary criteria? Are the reasons for any refusal given to the applicant? Have applicants a right of appeal in the event of refusal to issue a licence and, if so, to what bodies and under what procedures?

No other than failure to meet ordinary criteria.

Eligibility of Importers to Apply for Licence

Question 9: Are all persons, firms and institutions eligible to apply for licences:

- (a) under restrictive licensing systems?
- (b) under non-restrictive systems?

If not, is there a system of registration of persons or firms permitted to engage in importation? What persons or firms are eligible? Is there a registration fee? Is there a published list of authorized importers?

Import authorizations/surveillance documents are issued without discrimination to any importer in the Community wherever the place of his establishment may be in the Community, without prejudice to compliance with the other conditions required under current rules. All persons are eligible to become importers.

Documentational and Other Requirements for Application for Licence

Question 10: What information is required in applications? Submit a sample form. What documents is the importer required to supply with the application?

Applications for surveillance documents, in writing, shall be sent to or lodged with the competent administrative authorities in the member States. Regarding the information required in applications see Annex IX. A surveillance document sample form is attached as Annex X.¹

For certain ECSC steel products the Community applies a dual licensing arrangement. In addition to the presentation of an import document issued by the competent authorities of the member States, imports are subject to the issue of an export document issued by the competent authorities of the exporting country. (See questions 2 and 3).

For textile products subject to quantitative limits: for information required in application see Annex IV.

Sample form annexed under Annex V.¹

The applicant is required to supply:

- copy of bill of lading; and
- copy of purchase contract.

For textile products subject to Community surveillance: For information required in application see Annexes VII and VIII.

Sample form annexed under Annex V.

Concerning the application for the import authorization in the case of a double-checking system, the applicant is required to supply:

- copy of the bill of lading; and
- copy of purchase contract.

¹English only.

Concerning the application for the import authorization in the case of a single-checking system, the applicant is required to supply:

- a certified copy of the bill of lading;
- letter of credit;
- contract; or
- any other commercial document indicating a firm intention to carry out the importation.

In the agricultural field, the application for an import licence has to be forwarded to or lodged with the competent authorities in the member States conforming to the specimen set out in Annex XII.¹ Regarding the information required in applications, see Annex XIII.

Question 11: What documents are required upon actual importation?

The licence/surveillance document is required upon importation. For textile products subject to quantitative limits/surveillance there is also, if needed, a requirement for a certificate of origin upon actual importation.

Question 12: Is there any licensing fee or administrative charge? If so, what is the amount of the fee or charge?

There is no licensing fee or administrative charge.

Question 13: Is there any deposit or advance payment requirement associated with the issue of licences? If so, state the amount or rate, whether it is refundable, the period of retention and the purpose of the requirement.

There is no deposit or advance payment required associated with the issue of import authorizations.

In the agricultural field, the issuance of import licences is subject to a security in order to guarantee that the undertaking to import will be fulfilled during the period of validity of the licence. The amount of the security depending on the products is laid down in the specific Community provisions applicable to the relevant product sector. The security is released when the obligation to import is considered to have been fulfilled and the right to import under the licence is considered to have been exercised namely on the day the import declaration is accepted and the product concerned put into free circulation.

Conditions of Licensing

Question 14: What is the period of validity of a licence? Can the validity of a licence be extended? How?

Regarding a surveillance document, it is fixed by each decision. Not applicable: unless a more restrictive regime is instituted, a new licence can be delivered automatically.

For textile products subject to quantitative limits/surveillance, import authorizations/surveillance documents are valid for a period of six months from the date of their issue. Upon a duly motivated request by an importer, the competent authorities of a member State may extend the duration of validity for a further period of three months. In exceptional circumstances, an importer may request a second period of extension. These exceptional requests may only be granted by a decision of the textile committee, composed of representatives of the member States and chaired by a Commission. The period of validity of the import licences depends on the products (refer to Annex III). The validity of a licence can only be extended in case of "force majeure".

For agricultural products, the period of validity of the import licences depends on the products (refer to Annex XIII). The validity of a licence can only be extended in case of "force majeure".

Question 15: Is there any penalty for the non-utilization of a licence or a portion of a licence?

There is no penalty for the non-utilization of an import authorization/surveillance document or a portion of it.

For a licence in the agricultural field, the security is forfeit in whole or in part if import is not carried out, or only partly carried out during the period of validity of the licence.

Question 16: Are licences transferable between importers? If so, are any limitations or conditions attached to such transfer?

Import authorizations are not transferable between importers.

Import licences constitute an authorization and give rise to an obligation to import under the licence during its period of validity. Obligations deriving from licences are not transferable but the rights deriving are transferable by the titular holder of the licence during its period of validity.

Question 17: Are any other conditions attached to the issue of a licence:

- (a) for products subject to quantitative restriction?
- (b) for products not subject to quantitative restriction?

- (a) No other conditions attached to the issue of an import authorization for products subject to quantitative restriction.
- (b) No other conditions attached to the issue of an import authorization for products which are not subject to quantitative restriction.

Other Procedural Requirements

Question 18: Are there any other administrative procedures, apart from import licensing and similar administrative procedures, required prior to importation?

No.

Question 19: Is foreign exchange automatically provided by the banking authorities for goods to be imported? Is a licence required as a condition to obtaining foreign exchange? Is foreign exchange always available to cover licences issued? What formalities must be fulfilled for obtaining the foreign exchange?

- 1. Yes.
- 2. No.
- 3. Yes.
- 4. Not applicable.

COMMISSION REGULATION (EC) No 2412/96

of 18 December 1996

introducing prior Community surveillance of imports of certain iron and steel products covered by the ECSC and EC Treaties originating in certain third countries

THE COMMISSION OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Community,

Having regard to Council Regulation (EC) No 3285/94 of 22 December 1994 on common rules for imports and repealing Regulation (EC) No 518/94⁽¹⁾, as last amended by Regulation (EC) No 2315/96⁽²⁾, and in particular Article 11 thereof,

Having regard to Regulation (EC) No 519/94 of 7 March 1994 on common rules for imports from certain third countries and repealing Regulations (EEC) No 1765/82, (EEC) No 1766/82 and (EEC) No 3420/83⁽³⁾, as last amended by Regulation (EC) No 1897/96⁽⁴⁾, and in particular Article 9 (1) thereof,

Consultations having taken place within the Committees set up under the Regulations referred to above,

Whereas by Commission Regulation (EC) No 2914/95⁽⁵⁾, as last amended by Regulation (EC) No 464/96⁽⁶⁾, imports in to the Community of certain iron and steel products covered by the Treaty establishing the European Coal and Steel Community and the Treaty establishing the European Community were subject to a priori Community surveillance;

Whereas in accordance with the provisions of Regulations (EC) No 3285/94 and (EC) No 519/94, products covered by the Treaty establishing the European Coal and Steel Community are subject to the common rules for imports and it is therefore necessary that the arrangements for Community surveillance measures in respect of ECSC products be adopted in accordance with the provisions of those Regulations;

Whereas the steel market in the Community has been unstable in recent years, partly due to pressure from imports and notably from regions with excessive production capacity and weak domestic consumption. The steel market was still relatively unstable in 1996 and it is difficult to forecast trends for 1997 owing to the absence of recent trade statistics. However, the economic indicators which are currently available show the following trends:

A. Production. In 1995, production of crude steel in the Community amounted to 156 million tonnes, 2,6 % higher than in 1994. During the first nine months of 1996, Community production decreased by 7,7 % compared with the same period in 1995. For 1996 as a whole, production is expected to fall to 148 million tonnes, 5 % below 1995;

B. Imports. Imports of ECSC steel products into the Community from all third countries amounted to 17,9 million tonnes in 1995, 60 % of which (10,8 million tonnes) were flat and long products. According to estimates based on trends during the first months of 1996, imports for 1996 as a whole should decrease by an average of 16 %. Forecasts are, however, hard to establish with certainty because of the absence of up to date trade statistics for all Member States and important changes in trade structures. The drop in imports during 1996 was preceded by sharp increases of 30 to 35 % in 1995 and in 1994. For some ECSC steel products, these import trends were combined with very low import prices compared to the Community price level. Furthermore, the average 16 % decrease in the level of imports in 1996 reflects decreases of 37 % for semi-finishes products and 38 % for long products, whereas imports of flat products are estimated to rise by an average of 9 %. Member States are unequally affected by these trends. In some Member States, imports of certain flat products have increased by more than 100 % in the first part of 1996, compared with the same period of 1995;

C. Exports. Exports of ECSC steel products decreased by an average of 22 % in 1995 (EUR 12) compared with total exports of 23,4 million tonnes in 1994. Exports to specific markets dropped by between 13 % and 45 %. Community exports are provisionally expected to increase by around 7 % per year in 1996 and 1997;

D. Similar trends apply to certain steel products covered by the EC Treaty. Imports of certain grain-oriented and non-grain-oriented electrical sheet products subject to the EC Treaty (CN 7226 11 90 and 7226 19 90) increased by more than 100 % in 1995 and remain sensitive for the Community market.

for 1997 owing to the absence of recent trade statistics. However, the economic indicators which are currently available show the following trends:

- A. Production. In 1995, production of crude steel in the Community amounted to 156 million tonnes, 2.6 per cent higher than in 1994. During the first nine months of 1996, Community production decreased by 7.7 per cent compared with the same period in 1995. For 1996 as a whole, production is expected to fall to 148 million tonnes, 5 per cent below 1995;
- B. Imports. Imports of ECSC steel products into the Community from all third countries amounted to 17.9 million tonnes in 1995, 60 per cent of which (10.8 million tonnes) were flat and long products. According to estimates based on trends during the first months of 1996, imports for 1996 as a whole should decrease by an average of 16 per cent. Forecasts are, however, hard to establish with certainty because of the absence of up-to-date trade statistics for all member States and important changes in trade structures. The drop in imports during 1996 was preceded by sharp increases of 30 to 35 per cent in 1995 and in 1994. For some ECSC steel products, these important trends were combined with very low import prices compared to the Community price level. Furthermore, the average 16 per cent decrease in the level of imports in 1996 reflects decreases of 37 per cent for semi-finished products and 38 per cent for long products, whereas imports of flat products are estimated to rise by an average of 9 per cent. Member States are unequally affected by these trends. In some member States, imports of certain flat products have increased by more than 100 per cent in the first part of 1996, compared with the same period of 1995;
- C. Exports. Exports of ECSC steel products decreased by an average of 22 per cent in 1995 (EUR 12) compared with total exports of 23.4 million tonnes in 1994. Exports to specific markets dropped by between 13 per cent and 45 per cent. Community exports are provisionally expected to increase by around 7 per cent per year in 1996 and 1997;
- D. Similar trends apply to certain steel products covered by the EC Treaty. Imports of certain grain-oriented and non-grain-oriented electrical sheet products subject to the EC Treaty (CN 7226 11 90 and 7226 19 90) increased by more than 100 per cent in 1995 and remain sensitive for the Community market. Production of steel tubes and pipes is expected to fall by around 10 per cent in 1996 compared with 1995. Imports of steel tubes and pipes increased by an average of 60 per cent in 1995 compared with 1994. Prices of products from certain third countries are 30 to 50 per cent below those of Community producers. The steel tubes and pipes sector is expected to remain sensitive for the Community market.

Whereas, therefore, the trend in imports of certain ECSC and EC products originating in third countries covered by this Regulation threatens to cause injury to Community producers and the interests of the Community require that imports of those products should be subject to prior Community surveillance in order to provide statistical information permitting rapid analysis of import trends;

Whereas the completion of the internal market requires that the formalities to be accomplished by Community importers be identical wherever the goods may be cleared;

Whereas release for free circulation of the products covered by this Regulation should be made subject to presentation of a surveillance document meeting uniform criteria;

Whereas that document should on simple application by the importer, be endorsed by the authorities of the member States within a certain period but without the importer thereby acquiring any right to import; the document should therefore be valid only during such period as the import rules remain unchanged;

Whereas the surveillance documents issued for the purposes of Community surveillance must be valid throughout the Community, regardless of the member State of issue;

Whereas the member States and the Commission should exchange the information resulting from Community surveillance as fully as possible;

Whereas the issue of surveillance documents, while subject to standard conditions at Community level, is to be the responsibility of the national authorities;

Whereas it should be recalled that the import of certain iron and steel product from certain third countries is subject not only to the presentation of a surveillance document but also of an export document to be granted in accordance with arrangements established within the framework of an agreement with those third countries and the application of this Regulation is without prejudice to those arrangements,

HAS ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

Article 1

1. From 1 January 1997, the release for free circulation in the Community of iron and steel products covered by the ECSC and EC Treaties listed in Annex 1, originating in non-member countries other than the countries of the European Free Trade Association (EFTA) or the countries which are parties to the Agreement on the European Economic Area (EEA), shall be subject to prior Community surveillance in accordance with Articles 11 and 12 of Regulation (EC) No. 3285/94 and Articles 9 and 10 of Regulation (EC) No. 519/94.

2. The classification of the products covered by this Regulation is based on the tariff and statistical nomenclature of the Community (hereinafter called the "combined nomenclature", or in abbreviated form 'CN'). The origin of the products covered by this Regulation shall be determined in accordance with the rules in force in the Community.

Article 2

1. The release for free circulation of the products referred to in Article 1 in the Community shall be subject to presentation of a surveillance document issued by the relevant authorities of a member State.

2. The surveillance document referred to in paragraph 1 shall be issued automatically by the competent authority in the member States, without charge for any quantities requested, within five working days of presentation of an application by any Community importer, wherever established in the Community. This application shall be deemed to have been received by the competent national authority no later than three working days after submission, unless it is proven otherwise.

3. A surveillance document issued by one of the authorities listed in Annex II shall be valid throughout the Community.

4. The surveillance document shall be made out on a form corresponding to the model at Annex III. The importer's application shall include the following elements:

- (a) The name and full address of the applicant (including telephone and telefax numbers, and possible identification number used by the competent national authorities) and VAT registration number, if subject to VAT;
- (b) if applicable, the name and full address of the declarant or representative of the applicant (including telephone and telefax numbers);
- (c) the full name and address of the exporter;
- (d) the exact description of the goods, including:
 - their trade name,
 - the combined nomenclature (CN) code(s),
 - the country of origin,
 - the country of consignment;
- (e) the net weight, expressed in kilogrammes and also quantity in the unit prescribed where other than net weight, by combined nomenclature heading;
- (f) the c.i.f. value of the goods in ECUs at the Community frontier by combined nomenclature heading;
- (g) whether the products concerned are seconds or of substandard quality⁷;
- (h) the proposed period and place of customs clearance;
- (i) whether the application is a repeat of a previous application concerning the same contract;
- (j) the following declaration, dated and signed by the applicant with the transcription of his name in capital letters:

"I, the undersigned, certify that the information provided in this application is true and given in good faith, and that I am established in the Community."

The importer shall also submit a copy of the contract of sale or purchase, the pro forma invoice and/or, in cases where the goods are not directly purchased in the country of production, a certificate of production issued by the producing steel mill.

5. Surveillance documents may be used only for such time as arrangements for liberalization of imports remain in force in respect of the transactions concerned. Without prejudice to possible changes in the import regulations in force or decisions taken in the framework of an agreement or the management of a quota:

- The period of validity of the surveillance document is hereby fixed at four months;
- unused or partly used surveillance documents may be renewed for an equal period.

6. The importer shall return surveillance documents to the issuing authority at the end of their period of validity.

⁷Under the criteria given in OJ No. C 180, 11 July 1991, p. 4.

Article 3

1. A finding that the unit price at which the transaction is effected exceeds that indicated in the surveillance document by less than 5 per cent or that the total value or quantity of the products presented for import exceeds the value or quantity given in the surveillance document by less than 5 per cent shall not preclude the release for free circulation of the products in question.
2. Applications for surveillance documents and the documents themselves shall be confidential. They shall be restricted to the competent authorities and the applicant.

Article 4

1. Within the first ten days of each month, the member States shall communicate to the Commission:
 - (a) Details of the quantities and values (calculated in ECUs) for which surveillance documents were issued during the preceding month;
 - (b) details of imports during the month preceding the month referred to in subparagraph (a).

The information provided by member States shall be broken down by product, CN code and by country.

2. The member States shall give notification of any anomalies or cases of fraud which they discover and, where relevant, the basis on which they have refused to grant a surveillance document.

Article 5

Any notices to be given hereunder shall be given to the Commission of the European Communities and shall be communicated electronically within the integrated network set up for this purpose, unless for imperative technical reasons it is necessary to use other means of communication temporarily.

Article 6

This Regulation shall enter into force on the day of its publication in the Official Journal of the European Communities.

This Regulation shall apply from 1 January to 31 December 1997.

This Regulation shall be binding in its entirety and directly applicable in all member States.
