

REPLIES TO QUESTIONNAIRE ON IMPORT LICENSING PROCEDURES<sup>1</sup>

Notification under Article 7.3 of the Agreement on Import Licensing Procedures

NORWAY

The following notification, dated 3 November 1997, has been received from the Permanent Mission of Norway.

_____

The present notification describes the automatic licensing system introduced as a part of the Norwegian System of General Preferences to developing countries, the licensing system covering certain agricultural products which may be used as feeding stuff in domestic animal production and the licensing system for industrial products. Tariff quotas on agricultural products and the systems relating to them are described in the notification on tariff quotas to the WTO Committee on Agriculture (G/AG/NOR/1) and are accordingly not described in this notification.

I. IMPORT LICENSING SYSTEM FOR AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS

Outline of Systems

1. There are two automatic licensing systems present in Norway. This includes a licence for certain products which might be used as feeding stuff in domestic animal production. This is introduced as part of the comprehensive price and market system in the grain and feeding stuff sector.

There is also an automatic licensing of agricultural products in the Norwegian System of General Preferences (GSP) of which the domestic production is sensitive. This system aims at providing an overview on imports of agricultural products into Norway for which there exists a domestic production or where the goods may be substitutes for Norwegian production.

_____

*This notification updates and replaces the information previously provided in documents G/LIC/N/3/NOR/1 and Corr. 1. Replies 1, 2-3 and 5 of Part II on industrial products contain updated information.

A. Import licence for certain products which might be used as feeding stuff in domestic animal production

2. This licence is required for all importers, and a licence is issued to all importers who have handed in an end-use statement to the Norwegian Grain Corporation. (The Norwegian Grain Corporation is administratively under the Ministry of Agriculture, and has been delegated the entire responsibility of administering the import regime for agricultural products).

The end-use statement shall confirm that the products covered will not be used as feeding stuff in domestic animal production. The products covered by this regulation are listed in Annex 1<sup>2</sup>. The system is introduced as part of the comprehensive price and market system for grains, meals and feeding stuff in Norway. The purpose is to secure that products suitable for use as feeding stuff are not imported under cover of another end-use, and therefore withheld from the tariffs applicable for feeding stuff products. In the Uruguay Round, the tariff equivalents of the former quantitative import restrictions on feeding stuff (the State monopoly for importation of feeding stuff) were calculated. This resulted in a system of dual tariffs on certain products so that higher tariffs are levied on products meant for use in animal production, and lower tariffs in case of other uses.

3. The system has a global application.

4. Imports are not regulated on a quantitative basis. The purpose is described under the reply to question 2.

5. The regulation on import licences for certain products which can be used for animal feeding is introduced pursuant to the Grain Supplying Act of 22 June 1928, number 27. This Act may not be abolished without legislative approval.

Procedures

6. I. Information on imports is given in the form of announcements to, among others, trade associations, the customs service, the foreign service and embassies and legations. The Grain Corporation also sends information on changes in tariffs and related matters to enterprises and others who have asked to be put on a mailing list. Information is also provided on request.

II. It is not a quantitative measure.

III. Import licences apply to the applicant.

IV. Question irrelevant.

V. The normal processing time is one week.

VI. The licence is valid from the date of issuing.

VII. The Norwegian Grain Corporation (Statens Kornforretning) has been delegated the entire responsibility of administering the import regime for agricultural products, including the issuing of licences. This body is under the Ministry of Agriculture.

<sup>2</sup>English only.

- VIII. Question irrelevant.
- IX. There are no special arrangements for products subject to export licensing in the exporting country.
- X. Question irrelevant.
- XI. This is not an arrangement under which import licences are issued on condition that the goods should be re-exported.
7. Under the system there is no quantitative limit on importation of a product or from a particular country.
- (a) Licence is automatically issued to all importers who have handed in an end-use statement. The end-use statement must be submitted to the Norwegian Grain Corporation before import licence is granted.
  - (b) Import applications must normally be written. The application will be handled without unnecessary delay.
  - (c) Applications for licences are not limited to any particular time of year.
  - (d) The Norwegian Grain Corporation issues the licence.
8. Question irrelevant.

Eligibility of Importers to Apply for a Licence

9. (a)-(b) All applications are granted irrespective of the firm which makes the application.

Documentational and Other Requirements for Application for Licence

10. Refer to reply to question 7(a).
11. At the actual time of importation, the original invoice must be presented along with a plant disease certificate and/or a veterinary certificated where this is required.
12. There are no charged levies or other licensing fees.
13. No deposit or advance payment is required for licensing.

Conditions of Licensing

14. The end-use statement required for the issuing of import licences is time-limited, and a new statement must be handed in after the expiry date.
15. There is no penalty on licences which have not been used completely or on licences which have only been used partially.
16. Licences cannot be transferred between importers.

17. (a)-(b) There are no other conditions attached to the issuing of licences except the above-mentioned.

Other Procedural Requirements

18. There are no other administrative procedures required prior to importation apart from veterinary, phytosanitary and quality regulations.

19. Foreign exchange is automatically provided.

B. Automatic licensing of certain products included in the general system of preferences

Purposes and Coverage of Licensing

2. This licensing system covers imports of grains, meals and feeding stuff and of meat from the least-developed countries. Indicative ceilings of imports are set, of 20,000 tons of protein feeding stuff, 75,000 tons of carbohydrate feeding stuff and 100,000 tons of grain for human consumption.

Furthermore, from the more developed countries the licensing system covers imports of meat, sensitive vegetables and fruit.

If the volumes of grain and feeding stuff reach the indicative ceilings, or there are signs that the imported volumes of the other products included in the system threaten to cause market disturbances, the tariff preferences will be reconsidered according to the Norwegian GSP safeguard provision. If necessary, special provisions may be introduced.

The products covered by this regulation are listed in Annex 2<sup>2</sup>.

3. The automatic licensing system for sensitive agricultural products applies only to the countries included in the GSP system.

4. Imports are not regulated on a quantitative basis. Refer however to the indicative ceilings mentioned in reply to question 2. The overview of imports through statistics has been considered, but this was not adopted due to the delayed information such a method would have given.

5. Regulations pursuant to the introductory provisions to the customs tariff lay down provisions for the GSP automatic licensing. The General System of Preferences is adopted by the Parliament (Stortinget).

Procedures

6. I. Refer to reply to question A, 6 I.

II. The quotas included in the Norwegian System of General Preferences are subject to a unilateral consideration and fixing.

III-VII. Refer to replies to questions A, 6 III-VII.

VIII. Imports under the automatic licensing system will take place on a running basis, and the imported volumes will be subject to an overview as described in reply to question 2.

IX-XI. Refer to replies to questions A, 6 IX-XI.

7. Refer to reply to question A, 7.

8. Question irrelevant.

Eligibility of Importers to Apply for Licence

9. Refer to reply to question A, 9.

Documentational and Other Requirements for Application for Licence

10-13. Refer to replies to questions A, 10-13.

Conditions of Licensing

14. The licence is normally valid for six months after the licensing date. There may be a requirement in the licence that the importer within a time-limit, usually one month, must document that the trade has taken place by showing contracts or similar documentation.

15-16. Refer to replies to questions A, 15-16.

17. Refer to reply to question A, 17.

Other Procedural Requirements

18-19. Refer to replies to questions A, 18-19.

II. IMPORT LICENSING SYSTEM FOR INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTS

Outline of Systems

1. The Act of 13 December 1946 relating to the provisional ban on imports has been replaced by Act of 17 December 1996<sup>3</sup> relating to the regulation of imports and exports. Regulations issued and decisions made pursuant to the former Act are still valid. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs is authorized to lay down import licensing requirements and to issue licences.

Purposes and Coverage of Licensing

2-3. Most industrial goods have been put on a free list. For goods on this list no licences are required.

Licences are, however, required for imports of a few categories of textiles and clothing products which are subject to restraints in accordance with the Agreement on Textiles and Clothing (ATC).

For the importation of a few other clothing products, import licences are required for surveillance purposes only. The licence requirement applies to all countries.

In addition, shoes are subject to import licences when imported from Taiwan.

All imports from Iraq are prohibited.

4. Licensing is partly intended to restrict the quantity of imports and is partly maintained for surveillance purposes. Alternative methods of accomplishing these purposes have not been considered.

5. Licensing is authorized under the Act of 17 December 1996 relating to the regulation of imports and exports. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs has been given the power to implement the provisions of the law and has consequently the power to decide which products shall be subject to licensing. Licensing can be abolished without legislative approval. The decisions of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs concerning licensing requirements take the form of regulations.

Procedures

6. I. Information regarding quotas is submitted to the relevant trade organizations. The formalities for the filling in of applications for licences are laid down in the general provisions concerning import regulation. These are published in a bulletin which is distributed to all importers whenever needed.

II. Quotas are determined on a yearly basis and in accordance with the ATC where applicable. Licences are usually granted for the duration of the quota period. The validity can be extended by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs on request.

III. Quotas are allotted by the authorities of the exporting countries. The application for an import licence must be accompanied by a pro forma invoice or similar documentation and a certificate of origin, and for quota items by an export licence. If a licence cannot be used wholly or in part, it should be returned to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

IV. The time allowed for submission of applications for licences when the opening of new quotas is announced is usually restricted to the quota period.

V. The maximum time allowed for processing applications is two weeks. Licences will generally be issued within two to four days.

VI. The importation may take place immediately when the licence has been granted.

VII. Consideration of licence applications is effected by one administrative organ.

VIII. Under the present regime this problem should not arise.

IX. When import licences are required in addition to export permits, these will be issued automatically.

X. If imports should be allowed on the basis of export permits only, the foreign authorities will be asked to provide statistics of exports or lists of export permits. However, for the time being all restricted imports into Norway are subject to import licensing.

XI. In some cases licences are issued in excess of the quota on the condition that the goods shall be re-exported.

7. (a) Applications must be forwarded to the Ministry before the shipment takes place from the exporting country. In cases of inadvertency, licences will normally be granted at a later stage.
- (b) In special circumstances, a licence can be granted immediately on request.
- (c) There is no limitation as to the period of the year during which applications for licences and/or importation may be made.
- (d) Applications are handled by one administrative organ.

8. If an application for a licence meets the ordinary criteria, it will not be refused. Reasons for refusal are always communicated to the applicant. In the event of refusal applicants have a right to appeal to the King in Council.

Eligibility of Importers to Apply for Licence

9. (a) - (b) All persons, firms and institutions domiciled in Norway are eligible to apply for licences and entitled to expect consideration within the framework for normal procedures. Applications must be signed by the actual importer or his authorized representative.

Documentational and Other Requirements for Application for Licence

10. The information required includes: the specification of the product including the value and the quantity, the name and address of the importer and exporter, country of origin and contractual conditions. The application must be accompanied by a pro forma invoice or similar documentation and an export licence or a certificate of origin. See Annex 3.

11. Normal customs documents and, where required, an import licence shall be presented upon importation.

12. There is no licensing fee or administrative charge.

13. There is no deposit or advance payment requirement associated with the issue of licences.

Conditions of Licensing

14. The validity period of a licence varies in accordance with the need of the importer. The validity of a licence can be extended by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs on request.

15. There is no penalty for the non-utilization or a portion of a licence.

16. Licences are not transferable between importers without permission from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

17. There are no other conditions attached to the issue of licences.

Other Procedural Requirements

18. Apart from import licensing there are no other administrative procedures required prior to importation.

19. Foreign exchange can automatically be provided by banks for goods to be imported.
