A. General remarks concerning the third column

(b) Allocation to importers: In the absence of remarks concerning subparagraphs (ii) and (iv), the following provisions apply:

(ii) A general import licence (PGI) is required for imports under a tariff quota (TQ). This licence is granted automatically and is for statistical purposes. Persons liable to customs controls must state the number of their licence on the customs declaration. The licence is not transferable and is generally not limited in time. TQ shares are only granted to individuals, businesses and organizations (irrespective of nationality) that: (a) are established in Swiss customs territory; (b) import goods in the sector concerned for business purposes, where necessary; and (c) provide guarantees that, where necessary, they can meet the requirements and undertake the commitments related to the use of TQ shares;

(iv) TQ shares are usually granted for a limited period.
