Israel	Facilitating food supply, Voluntary duty-free TRQs	During the lockdown period, MARD conducted daily inventories of fresh onions, cucumbers) agricultural produce, to identify missing and certain items and facilitate their importation when preserved goods. In particular, shortage of some basic consumer products, such as eggs and certain preserved goods was observed during March–April 2020. As a response, incentives were put in place to encourage importers to import these products as quickly as possible. For example, voluntary zero-tariff rate quotas for all WTO Members were increased to import onions, cucumbers and eggs. The Plant Protection and Inspection Services and the Veterinary and Animal Health Services have also facilitated imports by accepting copies of the original phytosanitary or health certificates under certain conditions.
