III. DESCRIPTION OF THE FUNCTIONING OF THE STATE TRADING ENTERPRISE

A. Summary statement providing overview of operations of the state trading enterprise

B. Specification of exclusive or special rights or privileges enjoyed by the state trading enterprise

C. Type of entities other than the state trading enterprise that are allowed to engage in importation/exportation and conditions for participation

Reply (A-C): In the products of which the import is currently subject to state trading administration, i.e. wheat, maize, rice, sugar, cotton, chemical fertilizer, crude oil, processed oil and tobacco listed in Annex 2A1 of Protocol on the Accession of the People's Republic of China, wheat, maize, rice, sugar, cotton, urea, diammonium phosphate and NPK compound-fertilizer have seen part of their annual TRQ allocated to non-state trading enterprises. Enterprises that have obtained trading right through registration may engage in the operation of non-state trading TRQ of the import of the above products, so long as they satisfy the requirements and conditions listed in MOFCOMs annual Announcement on publishing the quantity of TRQ and methods for the TRQs allocation.

With regard to import of crude oil and processed oil, enterprises that have obtained trading right through registration may engage in the operation of non-state trading part of the import, after getting registered according to Trial Measures for the State Trading Administration of the Import of Crude Oil, Processed Oil and Chemical Fertilizer (MOFTEC Decree No.27 of 2002) and so long as they satisfy the conditions listed in the annual announcements of non-state trading volume and application procedures.

The import of tobacco can only be completed by state-trading enterprises.

In the products of which the export is currently subject to state trading administration, i.e. rice, maize, cotton, coal, crude oil, processed oil(excluding Lubricating oil, grease, lubricating base oil), tungsten, antimony and silver listed in Annex 2A2 of Protocol on the Accession of the People's Republic of China, as well as tobacco, rice, maize, cotton, coal, crude oil, processed oil and tobacco can only be exported by state trading enterprises, and no annual review of qualification of state trading of enterprises is needed.

Tungsten, antimony and silver can only be exported by state trading enterprises, and the qualification of state trading enterprises is reviewed annually. Enterprises that satisfy the conditions and requirements listed in MOFCOMs annual Announcement regarding annual review may apply to be qualified as state trading enterprises.

Please refer to the reply to Question II (B) for the legal basis for the engagement of non-state trading enterprises in the import and export of products subject to state trading administration.

D. How import/export levels are established by the state trading enterprise

Reply: State trading enterprises are operated following market mechanism. State trading enterprises determine by themselves the import level of wheat, maize, rice, sugar, cotton and chemical fertilizer according to the quantity of TRQ that they have obtained, and taking into account the domestic supply and the prices of both domestic and international markets among other factors.

State trading enterprises determine by themselves the import level of crude oil and processed oil while taking into account the domestic supply and the prices of both domestic and international markets among other factors.

Quota license administration applies to the export of rice, maize, cotton, coal, crude oil, processed oil (excluding lubricating oil, grease, lubricating base oil), tungsten, antimony and silver. Every state trading enterprise determines its export level within its licensed quota, according to market supply and demand, as well as prices and other factors.

State trading enterprises which import/export tobacco determine their import/export level through commercial negotiations, taking into account the supply capacity of domestic and international markets as well as the acceptability of enterprises.

E. How export prices are determined

Reply: State trading enterprises are operated following market mechanism. Export prices of state trading enterprises are determined according to the prices of international market and the supply in domestic market, and by referring to the cost prices plus circulation expenses such as fees for warehousing, transportation, bank interests and inspection, etc.

F. How the resale prices of imported products are determined

Reply: State trading enterprises are operated following market mechanism. When state trading enterprises act as import agents of other enterprises, resale prices of import merchandise are roughly the import CIF prices plus agent service fees of a certain proportion, without any import mark-up. When state trading enterprises conduct import for themselves, the resale prices are mainly determined according to the wholesale prices of domestic market, the enterprises assume sole responsibility for their own profits and losses.

G. Whether long-term contracts are negotiated by the state trading enterprise. Whether the state trading enterprise is used to fulfil contractual obligations entered into by the government

Reply: Long-term contracts are negotiated and signed independently by state trading enterprises. Currently, State-trading is not used to fulfil contractual obligations entered into by the government.

H. Brief Description of Market Structure

Reply: Please refer to the following tables.

IV. STATISTICAL INFORMATION (SEE ATTACHED TABLES I - III)

N.B:

1. In the statistical information, data of national production and data of total quantity imported/exported are sourced from National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) and General Administration of Customs (GAC) respectively, and are of different statistic scope. The statistics of domestic production quantity are not based on HS code, and are only for reference.
2. According to MOFCOM Announcement, No. 93 of 2005, state trading administration of import of soybean oil, palm oil and colza oil was suspended since 1 January 2006.
3. China has not applied state trading administration on the export of soybean, unbleached silk, cotton yarn and woven fabrics of cotton since China joined the WTO.
4. According to Circular Guo Fa No. 16 of 2004, state trading administration on the export of tea was suspended since 19 May 2004.
5. According to Announcement No. 64 of 2004 of MOFCOM and General Administration of Customs of PRC, state trading administration on the export of silk was suspended since 1 January 2005.
6. The HS code used in the statistics tables below is sourced from Customs Import and Export Tariff of PRC 2017, and the list of state trading enterprises was updated up to now.
7. Import price is determined by enterprises themselves after taking into account of domestic supply, and prices of both domestic market and international market and other factors. And there is no adding mark-up under the direction of the government. Information of prices for state-trading enterprises is not available.
