

Committee on Technical Barriers to Trade

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL REVIEW OF THE IMPLEMENTATION AND OPERATION OF THE TBT AGREEMENT

NOTE BY THE SECRETARIAT¹

Revision

The WTO Committee on Technical Barriers to Trade (the Committee) will conduct its twenty-second Annual Review of the implementation and operation of the WTO Agreement on Technical Barriers to Trade (the TBT Agreement) under Article 15.3 at its next meeting on 29-30 March 2017. This document contains information on developments in the Committee relating to the implementation and operation of the TBT Agreement from 1 January to 31 December 2016.

¹ This document has been prepared under the Secretariat's own responsibility and is without prejudice to the position of Members or to their rights and obligations under the WTO.

1 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1.1. In 2016, the TBT Committee:

- a. oversaw the launch of "ePing", a new SPS and TBT notification alert system developed in cooperation with ITC and UNDESA (para. 5.3);

<http://www.epingalert.org/>

- b. set a record on transparency: a total of 2,336 notifications were submitted by 79 Members in 2016 – the most notifications submitted in one year in the Committee's history. The majority of notifications (76%) in 2016 were submitted by developing and Least-developed Members (Section 3.1);
- c. discussed 173 specific trade concerns, a record number (Section 3.3).² Among these the Committee addressed its 500th STC. DG Azevêdo said on 9 March 2016:

Today WTO Members discussed the 500th specific trade concern. It sounds technical but actually this is about dealing with all sorts of real-life issues that we all care about — from the use of chemicals in toys to the sugar, salt and fat content of our food. The WTO provides a forum for members to raise and resolve these concerns thereby avoiding them escalating into disputes. This is the unseen but essential daily work that keeps trade flowing — and it can only be done through the WTO.³

- d. held seven thematic sessions and launched a new stream of work on regulatory cooperation between Members, including discussions on energy efficiency and food (nutritional) labelling (para 2.1);
- e. held its Eighth Special Meeting on Procedures for Information Exchange (para. 21.1.e);
- f. was informed about technical assistance activities delivered by the WTO Secretariat. A total of 37 TBT technical assistance activities were delivered in various formats during 2016; 15 of these were organized specifically on the TBT Agreement (Section 5);
- g. was informed about the launch of a new WTO ISO Standards Information Gateway. This gateway provides information on standardizing bodies that have accepted the Code of Good Practice and, if available, their work programmes (para. 3.14); and,
- h. granted ad hoc observer status to the CARICOM Regional Organization for Standards and Quality (CROSQ).⁴

1.2. Ms. Esther Peh (Singapore) was elected by the Committee as its Chairperson for 2016 and three regular meetings were held: on 9-10 March⁵, 15-16 June⁶ and 9-10 November.⁷ In addition to the review of measures (see Section 3, below), during these meetings, seven thematic sessions were organized. Representatives of the ACP, ARSO, BIPM, Codex Alimentarius, CROSQ, IEC, ISO,

OECD, OIML, UNECE and WHO updated the Committee on activities relevant to the work of the TBT Committee, including on technical assistance.

2 EXCHANGE OF EXPERIENCES

2.1. During 2016, Members' exchange of experiences took place mainly in the context of seven thematic sessions:

- a. Good regulatory practice. The thematic session on good regulatory practice (GRP) included discussion of: (i) the extent to which RIAs could facilitate the implementation of the TBT Agreement, considering the constraints facing developing Members in carrying out RIAs; and (ii) how trade impacts and TBT Agreement obligations could be taken into account in the preparation of RIAs. A summary report is contained in G/TBT/GEN/191.
- b. Regulatory Cooperation between Members. Two thematic session where held on this topic, one on energy efficiency and another on food (nutritional) labelling:
 - i. The session on energy efficiency explored, inter alia, regulators' use of standards in promoting energy efficiency of products, as well as approaches used to facilitate the acceptance of conformity assessment results of such products. A summary report is contained in document G/TBT/GEN/198.⁸
 - ii. The session on food (nutritional) labelling discussed, inter alia, global health objectives, food labelling and international standards as well as regional and national approaches to food labelling. A summary report is contained in document G/TBT/GEN/205.⁹
- c. Conformity assessment procedures. The thematic session on conformity assessment procedures focused on developments in international and regional systems, and regional trade agreements (RTAs), relating to the recognition and acceptance of conformity assessment results. A summary report is contained in G/TBT/GEN/190.
- d. Standards. This thematic session explored the topic of referencing standards in regulation. A summary report is contained in G/TBT/GEN/199.¹⁰
- e. Transparency. The Committee held its Eighth Special Meeting on Procedures for Information Exchange. This event focused on the use of on-line tools, the functioning of enquiry points and transparency in standard-setting. A detailed summary report is included as an Annex to the minutes of the November Committee meeting (G/TBT/M/70).¹¹
- f. Technical assistance. The thematic session on technical assistance highlighted, inter alia, the need for both providers and recipients of technical assistance to be clear on the specific needs to be addressed through capacity building activities. The session gave examples of ways that the need and impact of technical assistance could be measured. A summary report is contained in G/TBT/GEN/204.

3 REVIEW OF TBT MEASURES¹²

3.1 Notifications of technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures

3.1.1 Trends in new notifications and follow-up (addenda, corrigenda, revision)

3.1. The TBT Committee set a record in 2016 for total number of notifications (2,336) submitted in one year. This total comprises 1,653 new notifications of technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures, 651 addenda or corrigenda to existing notifications and 32 revisions (Chart 1).¹³ There was wide participation in submissions of notifications in 2016: 79 Members submitted at least one notification during the year. Compared to 2015, the total number of notifications rose by 17.5%. Compared to the previous peak in 2014, the number of notifications rose by 4%, following the trend of a steady increase since 2012. Since the entry into force of the TBT agreement and up to 31 December 2016, 134 Members submitted 27,726 notifications (see Annex A).

Chart 1: total TBT notifications, 1995-2016

3.2. Over the past fifteen years, the number of new notifications has tripled, largely due to an increase in notifications from developing Members (Chart 6). The use of addenda and corrigenda has also increased remarkably and since 2011 more than 500 addenda and corrigenda were notified every year. Between 1995 and 2016, the US (1465), Brazil (623), Ecuador (585), Mexico (366) and Colombia (351) have submitted the most addenda and corrigenda. The number of revisions submitted is relatively low but also grew over the years; since 2012 the WTO received about 28 revisions per year (Chart 1). The Members that notified the most revisions since 1995 were China (39), Brazil (21), Thailand (17), Canada (16) and South Africa (16).

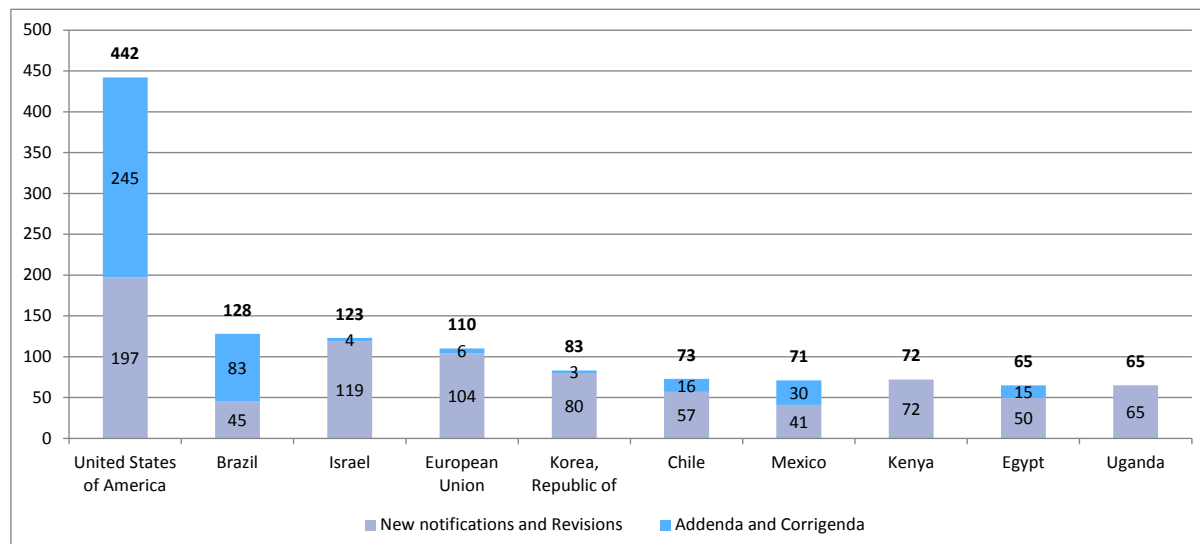

¹² The data for the charts in this section are drawn from the TBT IMS <http://tbtdms.wto.org/>. More detail is contained in Annex A. More information on TBT notifications, STCs and other TBT-related documents is available through the TBT IMS.

¹³ This document uses the terminology adopted by the TBT Committee in the recommendation on "Coherent use of notification formats", G/TBT/35, 18 June 2014.

3.1.2 Notifications by Member

3.3. The US, Brazil, Israel, EU, Korea, Chile, Mexico, Kenya, Egypt and Uganda notified the most TBT notifications in 2016 (Chart 2).

3.4. Several Members among the top notifying Members in 2016 do not appear among the top notifying Members for the period 1995 to 2016 (Chart 3), namely Chile, Kenya, Egypt and Uganda.

Chart 3: Top ten notifying Members (new notifications, addenda and corrigenda, and revisions) 1995-2015, and 2016

3.5. Taking a closer look at the five top notifying Members over the past ten years (2007-2016), Chart 4 shows that there is limited fluctuation in the number of notifications submitted. Exceptions to this are the number of notifications submitted by the US over the last two years, which increased significantly from 2014 to 2016. In addition, China and Saudi Arabia experienced peaks in submission of notifications in 2008-2009, and 2012-2013, respectively.

Chart 4: Notifications submitted by Brazil, China, the EU, Saudi Arabia and the US, all types, 2007-2016

3.6. The formats of notifications used by the five top notifying Members differ from Member to Member (Chart 5). The US and Brazil have notified more addenda/corrigenda than new notifications, while China and Saudi Arabia rarely use these formats. As indicated above, revisions are used very infrequently.

3.1.3 Notifications by development status and region

3.7. The rise in new notifications since 2005 (see Chart 1) is to a large extent explained by a very marked increase in notifications submitted by developing Members (Chart 6). Again in 2016 the majority of notifications (66%) were submitted by developing Members (90). Least-developed

Members (36) were responsible for 10% of new notifications in 2016¹⁴ and developed Members (38) for 24%.

Chart 6: New notifications by development status, 1995-2016

3.8. Members in the Middle East submitted about one quarter of all new notifications in 2016, the most of any regional group. African Members submitted 18%, followed by Members in Asia and North America, each submitting 16%. Compared to 2015, the main change was an increase in notifications from the Middle East and North America, and a decrease in notifications from Asia. (Chart 7 and 8)

Chart 7: Distribution of new notifications by region, 2016

¹⁴ The top five notifying least-developed members for the period 1995 to 2016 for what concerns new notifications are Uganda (597), Zambia (89), Yemen (62), Rwanda (49) and Tanzania (44).

Chart 8: Number of new notifications by region, 2007-2016

3.1.4 Comment period provided in notifications

3.9. The Committee agreed that the normal time limit for comments on notified technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures should be 60 days. Any Member able to provide a time-limit beyond 60 days is encouraged to do so and should indicate this in the notification.¹⁵ In 2016, Members provided on average 55.7 days for comments on new notifications and revisions (of those 1534 notifications which specified a comment period – Chart 9).¹⁶ This is a significant drop compared to 2015; in that year Members provided on average 59.6 days. The average number of days for comments provided in 2016 was the lowest in the past decade. In 145 new notifications and revisions submitted last year, there was no comment period included, the stated comment period had lapsed or it was stated that a comment period was non-applicable.

¹⁵ G/TBT/1/Rev.13, Section 5.3.1.8, page 27.

¹⁶ This chart covers only those notifications that specify a comment period. The chart does not take into account notifications where the comment period was not specified, was stated as non-applicable, or had lapsed at the time of circulation ("lapsed" means that the deadline for comments stated on the notification was earlier than the date of circulation of the notification).

Chart 9: Average number of days allowed for comments, 1996-2016

3.1.5 Online submission of notifications

3.10. In 2016, 69% of all TBT notifications were submitted using the TBT Notification Submission System (TBT NSS). The 35 Members listed below used the NSS in 2016 (Table 1). This represents a significant increase in the number of notifications submitted online; in 2014, 35% of all notifications were submitted through the TBT NSS, rising to 52% in 2015. Since the NSS was launched at the end of 2013, 39 Members continue to use the TBT NSS of the 134 Members who have ever notified.¹⁷

Table 1: List of Members that used the TBT NSS in 2016

Australia	Czech Republic	Israel	Rwanda	Turkey
Bolivia	Denmark	Japan	Senegal	Uganda
Botswana	EU	Kenya	Seychelles	Ukraine
Brazil	Germany	Korea, Republic of	Sweden	United Arab Emirates
Canada	India	Kyrgyz Republic	South Africa	US
Chile	Indonesia	Lithuania	Chinese Taipei	Viet Nam
China	Ireland	Malaysia	Thailand	Zambia

3.1.6 Stated objectives of notifications

3.11. "Protection of human health or safety" was overwhelmingly the primary objective stated in new notifications submitted in 2016 (Chart 10). The second most cited objective was "Prevention of deceptive practices", followed by "Protection of the environment" and "Quality requirements". When comparing this with the most cited objectives for the period 1995 to 2016, the top five objectives remain unchanged (Chart 11).¹⁸

¹⁷ For access to the TBT NSS, please contact tbtnss@wto.org.

¹⁸ The objectives as indicated by Members in Item 7 of the new notification template (see G/TBT/1/Rev. 13, pp. 58-61). Notifications may cite multiple objectives.

3.2 Other TBT notifications

3.2.1 Notifications under Article 10.7

3.12. Four agreements were notified under Article 10.7 in 2016, all of them between Brazil and other Members.¹⁹ Since 1995, 140 Agreements, four revisions and four corrigenda have been notified under article 10.7.

3.2.2 Notifications under Article 15.2

3.13. In 2016, eight notifications under Article 15.2 of the TBT Agreement with respect to measures in existence or taken to ensure the implementation and administration of the TBT Agreement have been submitted. Five Members notified for the first time under Article 15.2: Brunei Darussalam, Burundi, Kazakhstan Vanuatu and Yemen. Three Members revised their previous notifications: Japan, South Africa and Ukraine.²⁰

3.2.3 Notifications under the Code of Good Practice for the preparation, adoption and application of standards ("Code of Good Practice")

3.14. In the context of cooperation between the WTO and ISO on notifications under the Code of Good Practice, in 2016, a new WTO ISO Standards Information Gateway was launched.²¹ It provides information on standardizing bodies that have accepted the Code of Good Practice and, if available, their work programmes. The WTO forms for the acceptance of and withdrawal from the Code of Good Practice as well as the form to notify work programmes can also be found on the gateway.

<https://tbtcode.iso.org/sites/wto-tbt/home.html>

3.15. In 2016, three standardizing bodies notified their acceptance of the Code of Good Practice: the Afghan National Standards Authority (Afghanistan), the Institute of Standards of Cambodia (Cambodia) and Bureau Haïtien de Normalisation (Haiti). There were no withdrawals in 2016. With respect to work programmes, 12 notifications on work programmes were submitted in 2016, 10 of which contained a link to the organization's website, a specific link to the work programme or an electronic version of the work programme.

3.16. Between 1995 and 2016, 178 standardizing bodies from 138 Members or observers have accepted the Code of Good Practice. In addition, one regional standardizing body has accepted the Code of Good Practice: the African Organisation for Standardisation.²² 14 standardizing bodies have withdrawn from the Code of Good Practice since 1995.

¹⁹ In 2016, 4 notifications under article 10.7 have been submitted: notification G/TBT/10.7/N/129 concerns an agreement between Brazil, Canada and the US; notification G/TBT/10.7/N/130 concerns an agreement between Brazil, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, Mexico, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Slovak Republic, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom and the US; notification G/TBT/10.7/N/131 concerns an agreement between Brazil, Argentina, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Jamaica, Mexico, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru and US; and notification G/TBT/10.7/N/132 concerns an agreement between Brazil, Argentina, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Jamaica, Mexico, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, US.

²⁰ The latest list of statements submitted under article 15.2 is available in the TBT IMS under "reports" (<http://tbttims.wto.org>). This information was previously circulated in the G/TBT/2/GEN/-series). The list is also included in Annex E.

²¹ <https://tbtcode.iso.org/sites/wto-tbt/home.html>

²² A list of the standardizing bodies that have accepted the Code and have not withdrawn can be found in Annex D.

3.3 Specific Trade Concerns

3.17. The TBT Committee provides Members with a forum to discuss trade issues related to technical regulations, conformity assessment procedures and standards, prepared, adopted or applied by other Members. These discussions are referred to as "specific trade concerns" (STCs) and relate either to proposed measures, or to measures currently in force. Members thus have the opportunity to review these concerns in a multilateral setting, and to seek further information and clarification, working towards mutually acceptable solutions.

3.3.1 Trends in STCs

3.18. In 2016, Members reviewed a total of 173 STCs, a record number. The number of new concerns, however, dropped to 31, that is 6 less than in 2015 (Chart 12). This continues a new trend in declining number of new concerns raised in the Committee: in 2015, the number of new trade concerns dropped by 21% compared to 2014. On the other hand, the number of times previously raised STCs were discussed continues to increase and more than makes up for the declining number of new concerns raised. In 2016, Members discussed 142 previously raised concerns in TBT Committee meetings²³ (in 2015, this number was 124; in 2014, 100).²⁴

3.19. A new calculation method has been applied in this year's Annual Review for what concerns the category "previously raised STCs". In previous reports, an STC raised in the Committee in a given year was only included once in the statistics, either as a new or as a previously raised STC, regardless of the number of times the STC was raised that year. An STC raised for the first time in June and again in November, for example, was included as new, but not as previously raised. This method underreported the number of previously raised STCs. In this review, an STC is counted each time it has been raised in a TBT Committee meeting. If raised for the first time, it is counted as a new STC. If it is raised again, it is counted as a previously raised STC. This gives a more accurate reflection of the number of concerns actually discussed in the Committee in any given year.

Chart 12: STCs raised, 1995-2016

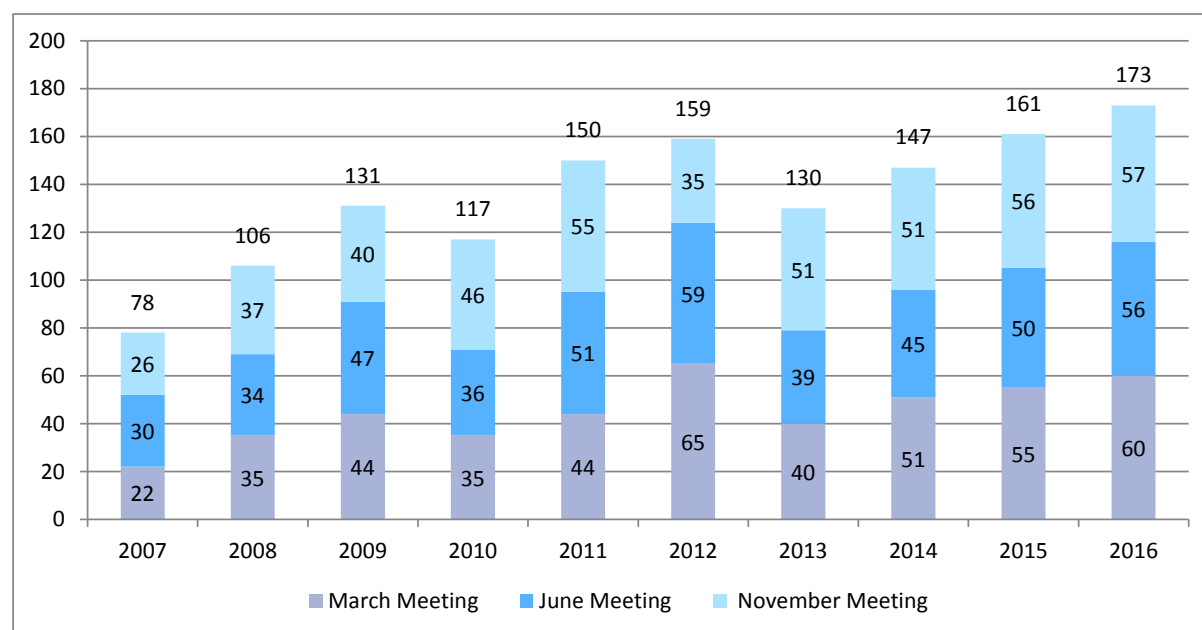

3.20. Chart 13 shows the number of STCs discussed per TBT Committee meeting, which is significant and increasing. In 2016, 60 STCs were discussed at the March meeting, 56 STCs at the June meeting, and in November, 57 STCs. This illustrates the steadily increasing workload for the

²³ Each time an STC is raised in the Committee, it is counted, regardless of whether the STC has been raised before in the same calendar year either as a new or previously raised STC.

²⁴ An overview of the STCs raised in the Committee in 2016 can be found in annex B. Annex C provides a more detailed overview of new STCs raised in 2016.

TBT Committee: in 2007, 78 STCs were discussed in the Committee, in 2016, this number rose to 173.

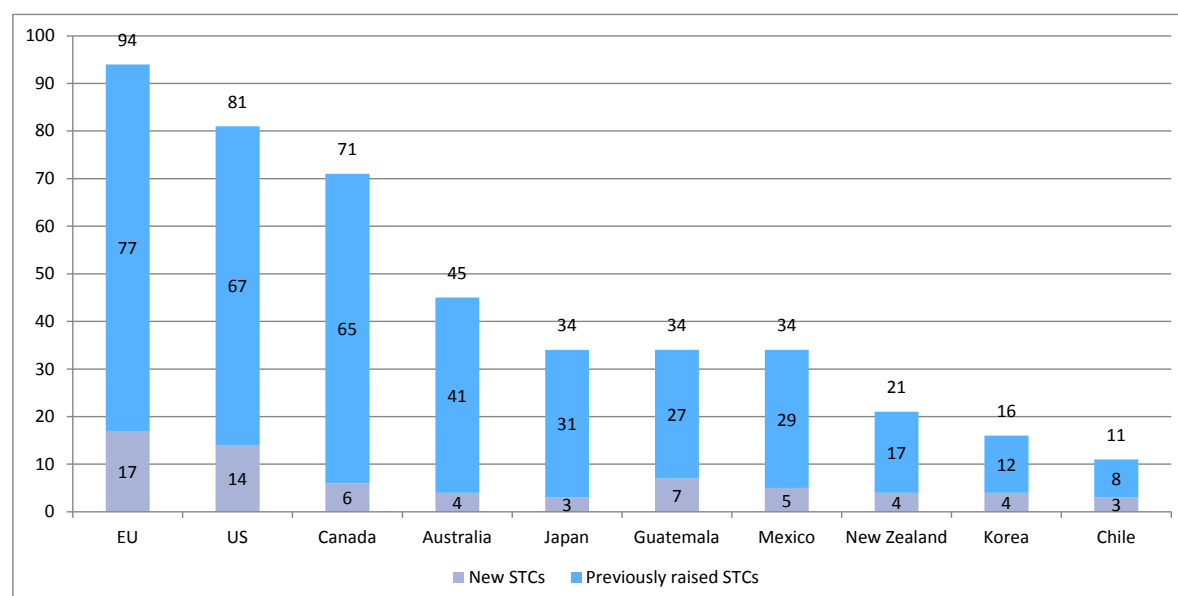

Chart 13: STCs raised per Committee Meeting, 2007-2016

3.3.2 STCs by Member

3.21. As in 2015, the EU, US and Canada most frequently raised STCs in the Committee, followed by Australia, Japan, Guatemala, Mexico, New Zealand, Korea and Chile (Chart 14). The large majority of these STCs are not new but raised previously.²⁵

Chart 14: Members most frequently raising STCs, 2016

3.22. When looking at the chart displaying Members most frequently raising new STCs for the period 1995 to 2016, we see a similar trend: the EU and US have raised the most new STCs, more than 200 each. Canada (100), Mexico (78), Japan (74), China (61), Australia (57) Korea (56),

²⁵ More than one Member may raise concerns (new and previous) about the same STC. Members can raise the same STC more than once in the same year; it is counted each time it is raised.

Brazil (47) and New Zealand (37) are also among the 10 Members most frequently raising new STCs. (Chart 15)

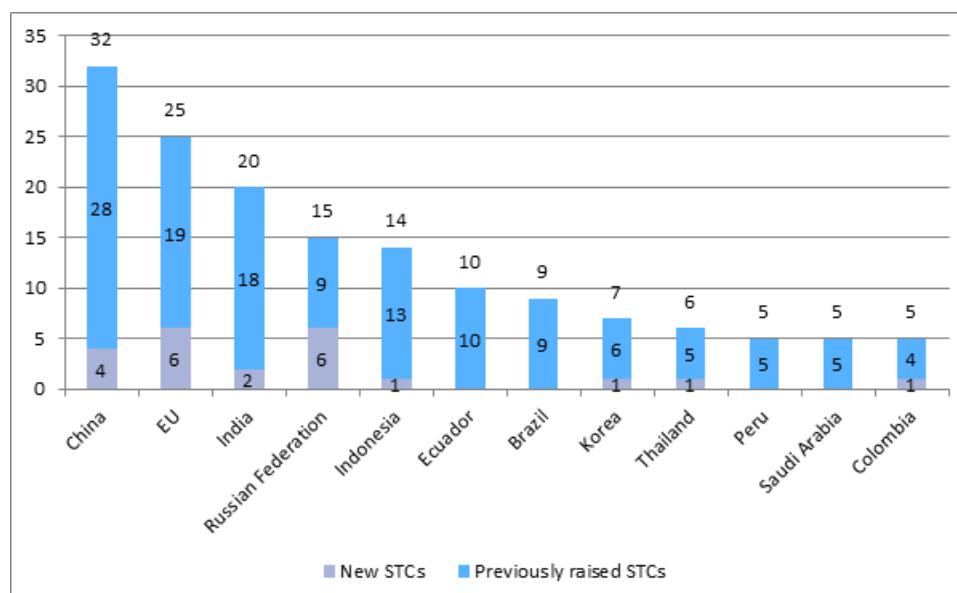

Chart 15: Members most frequently raising new STCs, 1995-2016

3.3.3 Members subject to STCs

3.23. Measures of China, the EU, India, the Russian Federation and Indonesia have been most frequently subject to concerns raised in the Committee in 2016 (Chart 16). Most of there were previously raised STCs, only 12 of the 96 concerns included in Chart 16 were new.²⁶

Chart 16: Members most frequently subject to STCs, 2016

3.24. Chart 17 shows that the EU, China and the US were most frequently subject to new STCs raised in the Committee between 1995 and 2016.

²⁶ Members can be subject to the same STC more than once in the same year; each time the STC is raised in the Committee, it is counted.

Chart 17: Members most frequently subject to new STCs, 1995-2016

3.3.4 STCs by region and development status

3.25. Charts 18 and 19 provide information on the regional breakdown of participation in STC discussions. In 2016, Members from North America raised 20 new STCs, from Europe 17 new STCs, and from Asia 14 new STCs. Members from the Middle East did not raise any new STCs (Chart 19).

Chart 18: New STCs raised by region, 2016²⁷

²⁷ "New STCs raised STCs by region" indicates the number of times a Member in a given region has raised a new STC. One STC can be raised by several members from different regions.

3.26. On the other hand, Members from Asia were most frequently subject to new STCs, followed by Members from Europe and CIS (Chart 19).

Chart 19: subject to new STCs by region, 2016²⁸

3.27. In 2016, about one third of the new STCs were submitted by developing Members, one third by both developing and developed Members and one third by developed Members alone. No LDC Member raised a new STC during the year. These shares have fluctuated over the years, but in general developing countries have become more active in raising new STCs (Chart 20).

Chart 20: New STCs raised by development status, 1995-2016²⁹

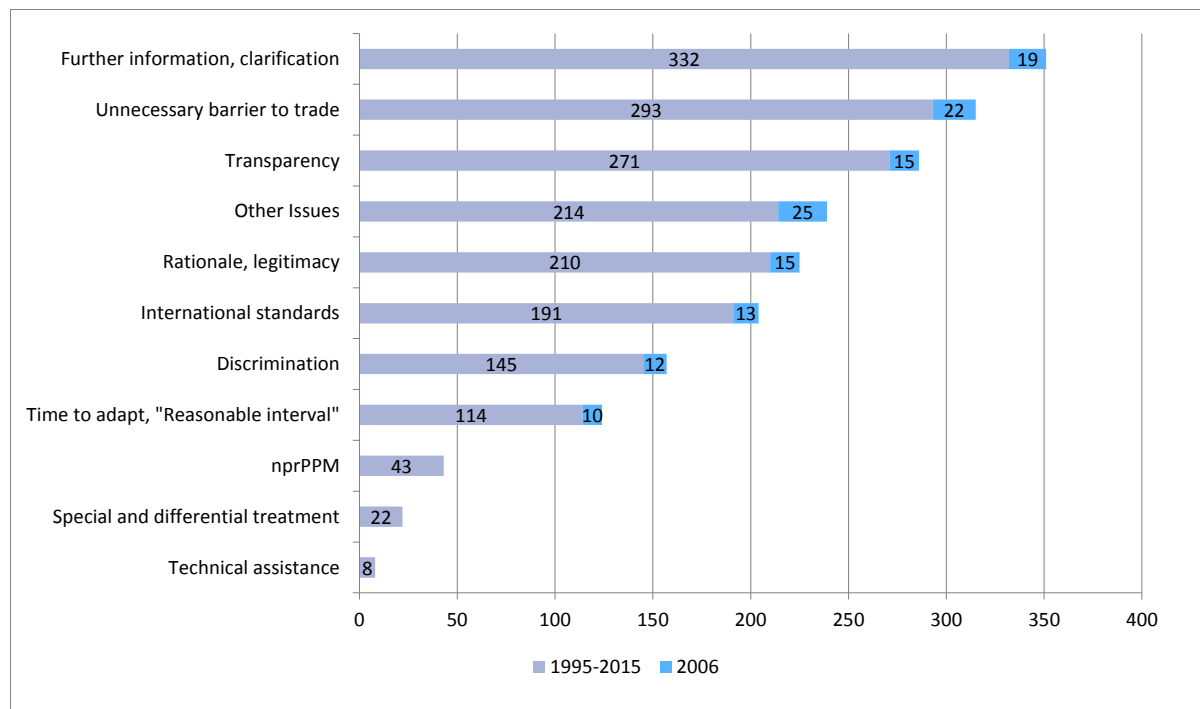

²⁸ "Subject to STCs by region" indicates the number of times a measure of a member in a given region has been subject to a new STC.

²⁹ "New STCs raised by development status" indicates the number of times a Member of a given development status raised a new STC. An STC can be raised by several members each with a different development status.

3.3.5 Types of concerns raised in STCs

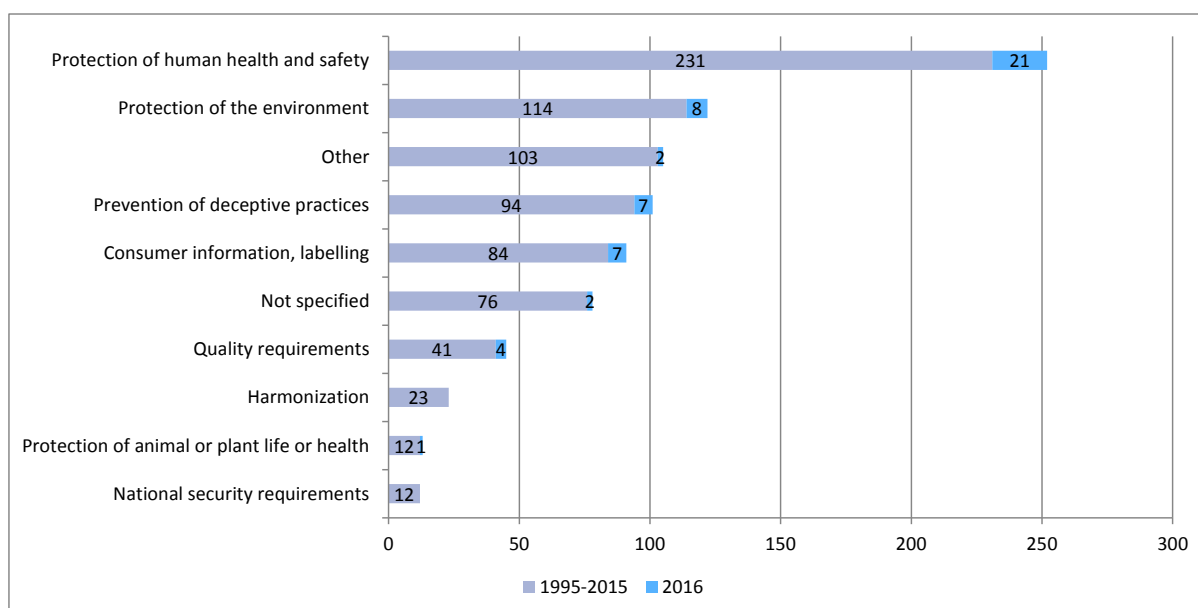

3.28. Of the issues highlighted by concerned Members in new STCs raised in 2016, 22 dealt with "Unnecessary barriers to trade", 19 with "Further information and clarification", 15 with "Transparency", 15 with "Rationale and legitimacy" and 13 with "International standards" (Chart 21).

Chart 21: Types of concerns raised, 1995-2015, and 2016

3.3.6 Stated objectives of measures subject to STCs

3.29. Information about the stated objective of measures subject to STCs may be derived from the notification itself, or through the discussion of the particular measure in the Committee. By far the most frequently stated objective of measures subject to STCs between 1995-2016 was "Protection of human health and safety", matching the main objective cited in TBT notifications (Chart 22, Chart 10).

Chart 22: Stated objectives for the measures raised as STCs, 1995-2015, 2016

3.3.7 Frequency – the number of times a given STC is raised in the Committee

3.30. The majority of STCs (55%) have been raised at one or two Committee meetings. 26% were raised 3 to 5 times and 19% were raised more than 5 times (Chart 23). The share of STCs raised more than 5 times has increased in comparison with 2015, in line with the finding that fewer new and more previous STCs were raised in 2016 (Chart 12).

Chart 23: number of times an STC is raised in the Committee, 1995-2016

3.4 Relation between notifications and STCs

3.31. When comparing the number of new notifications submitted versus new STCs raised from 1995 to 2016, a similar upward trend characterizes both sets of data (Chart 24). However, since 2014, the number of new STCs has decreased somewhat.

Chart 24: Trend in new notifications and new STCs

3.32. 61% of the new STCs raised in 2016 concerned a measure notified to the WTO. While this number is quite low compared to the general trend in the last decade, it represents a 12% increase compared to 2015 (Chart 25).

Chart 25: New STCs discussed related to notified measures

4 DISPUTES INVOLVING PROVISIONS OF THE TBT AGREEMENT

4.1. Since 1995, 52 disputes have cited the TBT Agreement in their respective requests for consultations, the first formal step to initiate a WTO case. Important developments during 2016 included:

- a. The establishment and composition by the DSB of compliance proceedings (second recourse by Mexico) with respect to US measures on canned tuna labelling;
- b. The establishment by the DSB of a Panel concerning certain Indonesian measures concerning the importation of beef;
- c. The establishment by the DSB of a Panel concerning certain measures by the Russian Federation affecting the importation of railway equipment;
- d. The composition of a Panel established by the DSB in 2015 concerning certain Indonesian measures affecting exports of chicken meat and products.

5 SECRETARIAT TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE ACTIVITIES

5.1. Similar to 2014 and 2015, in 2016 the Secretariat continued to significantly increase its TBT-related technical assistance ("TBT TA") activities. This is consistent with the fact that demand for TBT TA has grown substantially over the last few years. During 2016, the WTO Secretariat organized, or otherwise participated in, a total of 37 TBT TA activities in various formats. This is the same number of overall TBT TA activities delivered in 2015. Continuing the trend of the past three years, in 2016 the demand for, and delivery of, national TBT TA activities was significant.³⁰ Preliminary data for TBT TA activities in 2017 indicates that delivery of national activities will likely again increase as compared to recent years, and that demand for TBT TA activities, in general, will remain very high.³¹ Demand for joint TBT-SPS workshops has also significantly increased since 2015.³²

5.2. 15 of all TBT TA activities carried out in 2016 were national, regional and Geneva-based workshops that were organized specifically on the TBT Agreement and hosted by various developing Members or observers. These included, in particular, five regional workshops, seven national workshops as well as three Geneva-based advanced course (see below for more details on some of these specific activities). The programmes were designed to assist participating economies to consolidate knowledge of the principles and disciplines of the TBT Agreement, discuss implementation-related challenges and better engage in the work of the TBT Committee. Particular emphasis was put on transparency and national coordination. Similar to 2015, in 2016 more than half of these national, regional and Geneva-based TBT-specific activities also covered the SPS Agreement and were organized in cooperation with the Secretariat experts responsible for that area.

5.3. On 8 November 2016, the ePing SPS and TBT notification alert system³³, developed in cooperation with ITC and UN DESA, was launched during the TBT Committee week. This online platform allows stakeholders – both private and governmental – to keep track of SPS and TBT measures. While ePing is an easy-to-use platform, it requires training to get acquainted with the system and to be able to use all functionalities. As soon as a pilot version of the system was available early last year, the three organizations received requests for training and information sessions on ePing. In 2016 more than ten ePing training activities were set up, most of them demand driven. Also in 2017, we continue to receive requests for ePing training and information sessions. The three partner organizations (UNDESA; WTO and ITC) are currently looking into ways to accommodate the requests. There has also been an increase in requests and collaboration with third parties to provide training on ePing (e.g. East Africa Trade and Investment Hub).

³⁰ 7 national TBT workshops were delivered in 2016.

³¹ As of February 2017, almost 10 national TBT workshops were delivered or formally requested, or are expected to be requested, for 2017.

³² In 2015 and 2016, around half of the TBT-specific regional and national workshops covered both the TBT and SPS Agreements. In particular, the majority of the national workshops delivered in 2016 (7 out of 13) covered both Agreements, as opposed to, e.g., just 3 (out of 10) in 2014.

5.4. Three of the 15 TBT-specific activities were of particular significance, namely:

- a. A week-long "Follow-up to the Advanced Course on the TBT Agreement", organized jointly by TED and ITTC, for which 20 participants from the 2015 TBT advanced course returned to Geneva to share experiences and to report on progress made in the implementation of their action plans, which had focused on themes such as transparency, market access, national coordination and outreach. The new approach adopted for the course, in particular the development and implementation of action plans over a one-year period, with individual attention and support from coaches, served as a catalyst for change and gave the course participants the tools and the confidence to make a difference in their countries. The follow-up course also included two specific training sessions, focusing on a pilot SPS/TBT notification alert system (ePing); and on addressing specific trade concerns, both of which were well-received.
- b. A "Workshop on Standards, Regulations and Health", the first of this kind ever organized, which was developed and organized by TED (jointly with ACD). The workshop explored trade aspects of health related standards and regulations within the framework of the TBT and SPS Agreements, and was delivered in cooperation with WHO and the Codex Alimentarius Commission. One main theme of the workshop was finding ways to enhance policy coherence on trade and health at the national level, including better coordination between trade and health officials.
- c. A three-day "Workshop on TBT Transparency and Transparency Enhancing Tools", organized in parallel with the November TBT Committee and the Eight Special Meeting on Procedures for Information Exchange, which was attended by 29 participants from least-developed and developing Members involved in the implementation of the TBT Agreement domestically. Workshop sessions focused on TBT transparency provisions and how to implement these in practice using electronic tools such as the TBT Notification Submission System, the TBT Information Management system and the newly launched ePing SPS & TBT notification alert system. Participants developed an action plan to implement what they had learned during the workshop.

5.5. Additionally, during the course of 2016, a total of 22 TBT modules were delivered within the programmes of various broader WTO TA activities, including Geneva-based and Regional Trade Policy Courses ("RTPCs"). Finally, in 2016, three distance learning courses specifically on the TBT Agreement were held.

5.6. Looking ahead, TBT transparency is an issue of increasing interest of Members, and there is growing demand for TA in this area particularly related to ePing. We also expect that with the entry into force of the TFA, there may be an increase of interest in the TBT-TFA intersection and demand for incorporating these issues in TA in the years to come.³⁴

³⁴ In fact, in 2016, TBT-SPS modules already featured in two Geneva-based TFA Workshops (one in English and one in French).
