GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES

NOTIFICATION BY THE UNITED STATES

Addendum

The following communication, dated 23 March 2020, is being circulated at the request of the delegation of the United States. It contains a notification by the United States pursuant to paragraph 4(a) of the Decision of 28 November 1979 on Differential and More Favourable Treatment Reciprocity and Fuller Participation of Developing Countries (L/4903).

1. The United States (US) Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) program provides preferential duty-free treatment for over 3,500 of the 7,000 US tariff lines subject to most-favored-nation (MFN) tariff rates above 0 percent (HTS-8 level), from a wide range of designated beneficiary developing countries (BDCs), including 44 least-developed beneficiary developing countries (LDBDCs). An additional 1,500 tariff lines are GSP-eligible when imported from LDBDCs. Annual reviews of the GSP program are conducted in accordance with US trade laws relating to the GSP program.¹

2019 Annual Review of GSP

2. On 25 October 2019, the United States announced the results of the 2019 Annual Product Review of the GSP program, which became effective on 1 November 2019. As a result of the 2019 Annual Product Review, the United States reinstated one product from Thailand and two products from Indonesia to GSP eligibility (see Annex I). The United States terminated GSP eligibility for two products, one from Indonesia and one from North Macedonia, that exceeded competitive need limitation (CNL) thresholds (see Annex II). The United States granted a petition to waive CNL for one product from Thailand (see Annex III). The United States granted 27 de minimis waivers of the statutory CNLs (see Annex IV).

3. The full results of the 2019 GSP Annual Product Review were published in the Federal Register² and are available for viewing on the Internet at: "https://ustr.gov/sites/default/files/files/gsp/Results of the 2019 GSP Annual Product Review.pdf".³

Changes to Lists of GSP Beneficiaries

4. On 25 October 2019, President Trump signed Presidential Proclamation 9955, which, among other things, partially restored Ukraine's duty-free treatment accorded under the GSP program to certain eligible articles that are the product of Ukraine due to progress in providing adequate and effective protection of intellectual property rights (see Annex V). The proclamation also suspended GSP benefits for certain articles that are the product of Thailand, effective 25 April 2020, due to its failure to afford to workers in Thailand internationally recognized worker rights despite years of encouragement and assistance from the United States (see Annex VI). The proclamation also modified the US Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTS) to reflect a name change (the short-form name of "Macedonia" changed to "North Macedonia").

5. The Proclamation was published in the Federal Register and is available at: "<https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2019/10/31/2019-24008/to-modify-duty-free-treatment-under-the-generalized-system-of-preferences-and-for-other-purposes>."
