RESUMEN DE LAS RESTRICCIONES A LA EXPORTACIÓN Y LAS MEDIDAS DE FACILITACIÓN DEL COMERCIO NOTIFICADAS
EN RELACIÓN CON LA PANDEMIA DE COVID-19

INFORME DE LA SECRETARÍA¹

Revisión

1 INTRODUCCIÓN

1. En su reunión de los días 29 y 30 de abril de 2021, el Comité pidió a la Secretaría que preparara una revisión del informe "Resumen de las restricciones a la exportación y las medidas de facilitación del comercio notificadas en relación con la pandemia de COVID-19", en el que se resume la información fáctica contenida en las notificaciones y otras comunicaciones presentadas por los Miembros al Comité de Acceso a los Mercados con respecto a las medidas relacionadas con el comercio introducidas en respuesta a la pandemia de COVID-19.

2. Según lo acordado en esa reunión², el informe revisado también incorpora las medidas comerciales y relacionadas con el comercio adoptadas con respecto a la COVID-19 que se han recopilado en el marco del ejercicio de vigilancia del comercio de la OMC. En consecuencia, en el presente documento se recopila y resume la información pertinente sobre las prohibiciones y restricciones a la exportación notificadas por los Miembros en el marco de la Decisión sobre el procedimiento de notificación de restricciones cuantitativas de 2012³ (Decisión sobre las restricciones cuantitativas), las comunicaciones notificadas por los Miembros al Comité con información sobre medidas de facilitación del comercio y otras medidas adoptadas por los Miembros de la OMC recopiladas como parte del ejercicio de vigilancia del comercio de la OMC y que figuraban en el documento "COVID-19: Medidas que afectan al comercio de mercancías".³ El informe revisado tiene en cuenta toda la información disponible a 5 de octubre de 2021. En los anexos 1 y 2 se ofrece una visión general de los principales elementos de las restricciones y prohibiciones a la exportación y de las medidas de facilitación del comercio, respectivamente. Por otro lado, la lista completa de las notificaciones y comunicaciones al Comité que se han analizado en el presente informe figura en el documento G/MA/W/157/Rev.3.

2 PROHIBICIONES Y RESTRICCIONES A LA EXPORTACIÓN

3. A 4 de octubre de 2021, los Miembros han adoptado un total de 77 medidas de prohibición o restricción de las exportaciones como consecuencia de la pandemia de COVID-19. De ellas, 60 medidas han sido notificadas por 34 Miembros⁴ al Comité de Acceso a los Mercados. De acuerdo con el ejercicio de vigilancia del comercio, 11 Miembros han introducido 17 medidas adicionales. Hasta la fecha de este informe, esas medidas no se han notificado con arreglo a la Decisión sobre las restricciones cuantitativas. En el anexo 1 se ofrece un resumen de los distintos elementos de esas prohibiciones y restricciones a las exportaciones. A fin de facilitar el análisis de esas medidas y permitir su comparación, se han normalizado algunos de sus elementos (por ejemplo, el tipo de medida, los productos abarcados, la justificación en el marco de la OMC, etc.). A los efectos del presente informe, una medida se cuenta individualmente siempre que pueda distinguirse claramente de otra medida (por ejemplo, si hay dos instrumentos jurídicos nacionales claramente diferenciados). La prórroga, modificación o terminación de una medida original no se cuenta como una nueva medida. Las notificaciones de restricciones cuantitativas tienen un formato estructurado y, por tanto, la información que se obtiene de ellas es comparable en la mayoría de los casos. Esa comparabilidad es ligeramente menor en el caso de la información obtenida en el marco del ejercicio de vigilancia del comercio y, por tanto, la definición de las medidas que se han extraído de esa fuente podría variar en cuanto a su alcance, así como la información sobre las modificaciones y prórrogas.

2.1 Tipos de medidas

4. La mayor parte de las 77 medidas de restricción de las exportaciones introducidas por los Miembros en respuesta a la COVID-19 han adoptado la forma de prohibiciones totales de las exportaciones (el 38,3%), a las que siguen las restricciones a la exportación en forma de regímenes de licencias de exportación no automáticas (el 22,2%) y las prohibiciones condicionales (el 17,3%). Las restricciones a la exportación mencionadas en el contexto del ejercicio de vigilancia del comercio, para las que no es posible especificar la naturaleza exacta de la medida, representan el 21% de todas las medidas. Se ha adoptado una medida en forma de contingente global para las exportaciones. Véase el gráfico 1.

2.2 Fechas de introducción de las medidas

5. Los Miembros adoptaron la gran mayoría de las medidas de prohibición o restricción de las exportaciones (57 de las 77 medidas) entre febrero y abril de 2020. Este período coincide con la declaración de pandemia por la Organización Mundial de la Salud (11 de marzo de 2020) y con los consiguientes confinamientos y otras medidas sanitarias impuestas por los Miembros en respuesta a la COVID-19. Según se constata, desde julio de 2020 solo se introdujeron 6 medidas de restricción de las exportaciones. Nueve medidas no contienen información sobre la entrada en vigor o tienen varias fechas de inicio de las medidas. Véase el gráfico 2.

2.3 Duración de las medidas

6. Para gran parte de las medidas de restricción de las exportaciones adoptadas por los Miembros no se proporciona información completa sobre su duración. En el caso de las 77 medidas del conjunto de datos, en 29 no hay ninguna indicación sobre la duración prevista o el Miembro en cuestión no presentó ninguna comunicación posterior que confirme la expiración o la interrupción de la medida. En el caso de las 48 medidas de las que se dispone de información, la mayoría de las restricciones estuvieron vigentes menos de 90 días (es decir, menos de tres meses), y en el caso de 14 medidas estuvieron vigentes entre 181 y 270 días. Véase el gráfico 3.

2.4 Evolución del número de medidas en vigor, por fecha

7. A partir de la información sobre la fecha de introducción de las medidas (sección 2.2) y su duración (sección 2.3), se puede hacer un seguimiento del número de medidas que estaban en vigor en una fecha determinada y su evolución. La información disponible indica que en el punto máximo de la pandemia, a finales de abril de 2020, 37 Miembros de la OMC tenían en vigor 55 medidas de restricción de las exportaciones, cifra que posteriormente fue disminuyendo de manera constante. Según indican los datos, a fecha de octubre de 2021, un año y medio después del máximo alcanzado, 19 Miembros de la OMC mantienen en vigor 29 medidas de restricción de las exportaciones. Véase el gráfico 4.

2.5 Productos abarcados

8. La mayoría de las medidas prohibían o restringían la exportación de los denominados equipos de protección personal, entre los que se incluyen los dispositivos de protección facial y de los ojos (36 medidas), las prendas de vestir de protección (24 medidas) y los guantes (22 medidas). Entre los demás productos sujetos a restricciones figuran los antisépticos y desinfectantes, como el alcohol (22 medidas), los productos farmacéuticos (21 medidas), equipos médicos como los respiradores mecánicos (13 medidas), distintos tipos de suministros médicos (13 medidas) y otros productos. Véase el gráfico 5.

2.6 Justificaciones de la OMC citadas

9. En el caso de las restricciones y prohibiciones a la exportación que se han notificado en virtud de la Decisión sobre las restricciones cuantitativas, los Miembros han facilitado información sobre su justificación con arreglo a las normas de la OMC. Para justificar la introducción de casi la mitad de las 60 medidas relativas a restricciones cuantitativas notificadas, los Miembros citaron el artículo XI.2 a) y el artículo XX b) del GATT de 1994, que se refieren a las prohibiciones o restricciones a las exportaciones aplicadas temporalmente para prevenir o remediar una escasez aguda de productos alimenticios o de otros productos esenciales para la parte exportadora y a las medidas necesarias para proteger la vida y la salud de las personas y de los animales o para preservar los vegetales, respectivamente. Los Miembros citaron exclusivamente el artículo XI.2 a) del GATT de 1994 para el 20% de las medidas. En el resto de los casos no se dio ninguna justificación.

o se aludió a otros objetivos de política, como la protección de la vida y la salud de las personas o la protección de los intereses esenciales de seguridad, sin mencionar disposiciones específicas de la OMC. No se dispone de información a este respecto para las 17 medidas extraídas del ejercicio de vigilancia comercial. Véase el gráfico 6.

2.7 Situación actual de las medidas

10. Según la información disponible, se constata que casi la mitad de las prohibiciones y restricciones a la exportación (el 41%), tanto las notificadas como restricciones cuantitativas como las extraídas de la labor de vigilancia del comercio, siguen en vigor el 4 de octubre de 2021. Las restantes medidas parecen haber expirado según se indicó en la notificación inicial (el 30%), o el Miembro pertinente presentó una notificación para informar a los demás Miembros sobre la terminación de la medida (el 29%). Véase el gráfico 7.

3 RESUMEN DE LAS COMUNICACIONES CON MEDIDAS DE FACILITACIÓN DEL COMERCIO

11. En el anexo 2 del presente informe figura un resumen del contenido de todas las comunicaciones con medidas de facilitación del comercio introducidas por los Miembros en respuesta a la COVID-19 que se han presentado al Comité de Acceso a los Mercados, así como las medidas de facilitación del comercio recopiladas en el marco del ejercicio de vigilancia del comercio. A diferencia de las prohibiciones y restricciones a la exportación descritas en la sección 2, que se presentaron en cumplimiento de la prescripción de notificación en virtud de la Decisión sobre las restricciones cuantitativas, en este caso se trata de comunicaciones presentadas voluntariamente por los Miembros con fines de transparencia.

12. A 4 de octubre de 2021, 12 Miembros han notificado al Comité de Acceso a los Mercados 23 comunicaciones con 36 medidas de facilitación del comercio. A fin de facilitar el análisis, y si la información disponible lo permite, se han normalizado algunos de los elementos contenidos en las comunicaciones (por ejemplo, los tipos de medidas) para su comparación. La información adicional recopilada por la Secretaría en el contexto del ejercicio de vigilancia del comercio⁵ contiene otras 129 medidas de facilitación del comercio. De ellas, 19 medidas han sido notificadas a otros comités de la OMC, como el Comité de Facilitación del Comercio (14 medidas), el Comité de Prácticas Antidumping (2 medidas), el Comité de Licencias de Importación (1 medida) y el Comité de Obstáculos Técnicos al Comercio (1 medida).

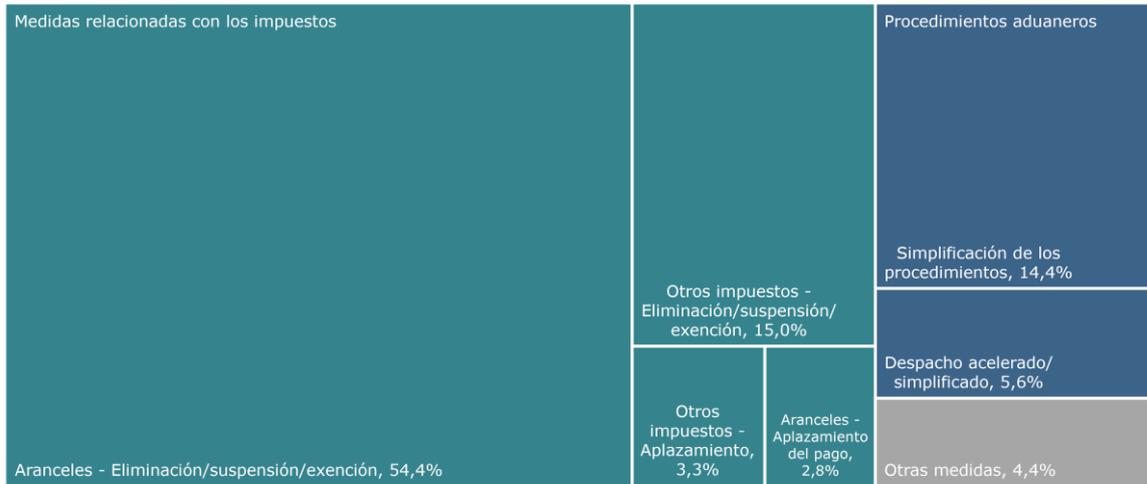

3.1 Tipos de medidas

13. Algo más de tres cuartas partes de las medidas de facilitación del comercio se refieren a medidas relacionadas con los impuestos encaminadas a reducir el precio de las importaciones esenciales, lo cual hace aumentar su asequibilidad y disponibilidad. Por ejemplo, más del 50% de esas medidas eliminaron, eximieron o suspendieron el pago de los derechos de aduana (aranceles) con respecto a la importación de productos que se consideraban "esenciales" para combatir la pandemia de COVID-19 (el 53,8%). Además, varios Miembros eliminaron, eximieron o suspendieron el pago de otros impuestos y/o derechos, como el impuesto sobre el valor añadido, con respecto a esos productos "esenciales" (el 14,8%). Con el fin de proporcionar liquidez a los importadores, algunos Miembros también decidieron aplazar el pago de los aranceles y otros impuestos con respecto a todos los productos importados (el 3,9% de las medidas).

14. Aparte de las medidas relacionadas con los impuestos, aproximadamente el 20% de las medidas de facilitación del comercio tenían por objeto simplificar o agilizar los procedimientos aduaneros, por ejemplo mediante la introducción de procedimientos de despacho de aduana simplificados o acelerados (el 5,5%), el establecimiento de canales verdes para dar prioridad a la importación de productos esenciales y la simplificación o eliminación de determinados procedimientos (el 14,3%). Por último, aproximadamente el 4,4% de las medidas se inscribirían en otras categorías, como el establecimiento de procedimientos especiales para la importación de donaciones (mercancías de socorro) o el compromiso de abstenerse de imponer prohibiciones o restricciones a la exportación de productos "esenciales". Véase el gráfico 8.

⁵ La sección sobre la COVID-19 de la página web de la OMC incluye una subsección titulada "COVID-19: Medidas que afectan al comercio de mercancías". Véase https://www.wto.org/spanish/tratop_s/covid19_s/trade_related_goods_measure_s.htm.

3.2 Duración de las medidas

15. La mayoría de las medidas de facilitación del comercio parecen ser de carácter temporal; sin embargo, en 80 casos la información sobre la duración prevista de la medida es incompleta o no está disponible. En el caso de las medidas para las que los Miembros sí que facilitaron este tipo de información, se constata que la mayoría han estado en vigor entre 180 y 365 días (es decir, entre seis meses y un año), a las que siguen las que estuvieron en vigor hasta seis meses y varias medidas con una duración superior. La medida con una duración más corta se mantuvo en vigor durante solo 9 días, mientras que la que tiene una duración más larga se previó que esté en vigor durante 987 días. También cabe mencionar que algunas de las medidas se describieron como medidas de facilitación del comercio "permanentes" para promover el comercio de productos esenciales en la lucha contra la pandemia de COVID-19. Véase el gráfico 9.

3.3 Productos abarcados

16. Las principales categorías de productos abarcadas por las medidas de facilitación del comercio resultan ser de naturaleza similar a las de los productos sujetos a prohibiciones y restricciones a la exportación (analizados en la sección 2). Cuarenta y tres Miembros adoptaron medidas para simplificar la importación de equipos de protección personal, que abarcan las categorías de dispositivos de protección facial y de los ojos (por ejemplo, mascarillas faciales, protectores faciales

y gafas [anteojos] protectoras y de seguridad), prendas de vestir de protección y guantes. Les siguen las medidas relativas a los distintos tipos de antisépticos y desinfectantes, incluidos los distintos tipos de alcohol utilizados en la elaboración de esos productos. Véase el gráfico 10.

3.4 Situación actual

17. Según la información disponible, se constata que el 40% de las medidas de facilitación del comercio ha expirado y que un 16% se mantiene en vigor en la fecha del presente informe. No obstante, no se dispone de información sobre la situación actual de casi el 50% de las medidas objeto de análisis. Véase el gráfico 11.
