(e) the base levels for existing specific limits were increased by the applicable growth rates;

(f) designated consultation levels were agreed with respect to six categories or combined categories;

(g) flexibility provisions remained unchanged;

(h) new provisions with respect to circumvention were agreed.²

¹Two hundred and eighty-ninth meeting overall.

²See COM.TEX/SB/1910, paragraphs 19 to 22.
6. During its review, the TSB gave attention to the fact that restraints on four categories were agreed in the absence of previous trade, and that the growth rates applying to three of these categories were lower than 6 per cent. The Body was informed by the United States that these had been agreed in the context of the elimination of the aggregate limit, the Group I limit and all minimum consultation levels, and had taken into account the export potential of Macau.

7. The TSB was of the opinion that the parties had given an extreme interpretation to Article 4:2 and in this regard recalled its general observation on restraints agreed in the absence of trade, which was also applicable to this case.

8. The TSB was also of the view that the growth rates lower than six per cent in such cases were a serious departure from Annex B to the MFA. The TSB stressed that these provisions could only be contemplated in the context of the degree of access now provided for Macau's exports to the United States' market both of the products in question and overall, given the previous existence of an aggregate limit which had been fully utilized. The TSB noted that the consultation provisions in the agreement enabled the parties to review the situation prevailing at the time of the negotiation.

9. After its review, the TSB agreed to transmit this notification to the Textiles Committee.

10. The TSB received a notification from the United States of an extension of its agreement with Sri Lanka for the period 1 July 1992 to 30 June 1994.

11. Under this extension:
   (a) the product coverage remained unchanged;
   (b) five additional categories were put under specific limit, and three new sub-limits were introduced, covering five part-categories; specific limits concerning eleven categories and three sub-categories were liberalized;
   (c) the base levels were increased by the applicable growth rates, except in seven cases where they were increased by more, or substantially more, than the applicable growth rates; an additional 5 per cent was made available for exports with respect to garments made of locally-woven, hand-loomed fabrics in three categories or merged categories;
   (d) the growth rates for categories previously under specific limit remained unchanged, except that they were reduced from 6 to 5 per cent in two cases and from 6 to 3 per cent in one case; the growth rates for the categories on which specific limits were introduced were set at 6 per cent for three categories and 5 per cent for two categories; sub-limits were given the same growth rate than their respective limit;

The TSB has reviewed under MFA IV a number of notifications which included agreed restraints on products of which there were no exports. Such restraints were often explained as features of a solution negotiated under Article 4:3 to the satisfaction of the respective parties. In its rôle of supervising the implementation of the Arrangement, the TSB felt it should express its preoccupation with such features and with the possibility of a proliferation of restraints in the absence of trade. The TSB, therefore, exhorts all participating countries to avoid such proliferation and to abide strictly by the provisions of the Arrangement.
(e) swing on cotton and man-made fibres categories was increased from 6 to 7 per cent and remained at 5 per cent for wool categories; special shift between categories or merged categories was made available in three cases; carryover and carry forward remained unchanged at 11/6 per cent;

(f) a designated consultation level was introduced on one category.

12. After its review, the TSB agreed to transmit this notification to the Textiles Committee. (COM.TEX/SB/1977)

13. The TSB received a notification from the United States of a further extension of its agreement with Sri Lanka for the period 1 July 1994 to 30 June 1995.

14. Under this extension:

(a) the product coverage remained unchanged;

(b) five additional categories were put under specific limit and one sub-limit was liberalized;

(c) the base levels were increased by less than the applicable growth rates, except in four cases where they were increased by more than the applicable growth rates;

(d) the growth rates for categories previously under specific limit remained unchanged, except in two cases where they were reduced to 4 per cent, and in one case to 2 per cent; the growth rates for the five categories on which specific limits were introduced were set at 6 per cent in three cases, 5 per cent for one category and 1 per cent for one wool category; as in the previous extension, an additional 5 per cent was available for exports with respect to garments made of locally-woven, hand-loomed fabrics in three categories or merged categories;

(e) swing remained unchanged at 7 per cent for cotton and man-made fibres categories and 5 per cent for wool categories; special shift between categories or merged categories was available in five cases; carryover and carry forward remained unchanged at 11/6 per cent;

(f) a designated consultation level was deleted;
