On page 2, the last sentence should be read as follows:

"Since the 1980s, the stabilization of positive expectations has been an important argument in favour of the hard currency policy."

On page 8, the second sentence in paragraph 4 should be read as follows:

"In 1990, the balance on current account has showed a surplus of S 9.4 billion (according to calculations available so far)."