The Norwegian Ministry of Commerce and Shipping has published a list of commodities which are to be deleted from the present restricted list of imports, effective 1 July 1960.

Approximately 330 products are included in the new liberalization list. Among these are fresh, frozen and preserved vegetables of various kinds, some fresh and dried fruits, malt, forage products and hay, certain fats and oils, sugar, jams and preserved fruits, fruit and vegetable juices, mineral waters, coke, various fertilizers, printing inks, certain glues and resins, specified plastic and synthetic rubber products, various articles made of wood, certain types of carpets, mirrors, glass jars, certain jewellery, bridges and sectional buildings of iron and steel, safes, crown corks, specified types of machinery, tanks and armoured cars, aeroplane parts, certain musical instruments, specified types of chairs and other furniture, tooth brushes and other brushes, articles for sports and games, fountain pens and ballpoint pens, cigarette lighters and antiques more than 100 years old.