GENERAL AGREEMENT ON TARIFFS AND TRADE

GATT Liberalization Communiqué No. 62

LIBERALIZATION MEASURES TO BE UNDERTAKEN BY NORWAY

The Norwegian authorities have communicated to the GATT secretariat the liberalization measures which the Norwegian Government will undertake during the period up to 1 January 1965. This follows the announcement that Norway no longer invokes Article XII of the Agreement.

Among the products which will be deleted from the "regulated" list on 1 January 1962 are sugar confectionery; chocolates and filled eating chocolates; "puffed rice", "corn flakes" and the like; soups and broths; household soaps; casein glues; plywood; cellular wood panels; windows and window frames; building board of wood pulp or vegetable fibre; tableware and articles commonly used for domestic or toilet purposes, of porcelain or china; bottles for beer, mineral water etc.; glassware, for table, kitchen, and for indoor decoration; soil pipes; wire netting; table knives, spoons and forks; passenger cars, buses, delivery vans; tugs; furniture.

On 1 July 1962 the following products are among those to be liberalized: crude and refined soya, cotton seed, groundnut and coconut oils; biscuits; soap powder; doors and door frames.

On 1 January 1963: certain types of animal or vegetable hydrogenated fats and oils; reconstituted wood; enamel bath tubs; refrigerators and deep freezers for domestic use; receiving apparatus for television.
