AUSTRIA UNDERTAKES FURTHER LIBERALIZATION OF IMPORTS

The Austrian authorities have informed the GATT secretariat that, as from 1 January 1964, some eighty-two additional tariff items or sub-items have been liberalized. Among these items are flour; gluten and gluten flour; molasses; bread; slabs of marble; specified inorganic chemicals; printing ink; writing and other inks; perfumery, cosmetics and toilet preparations; certain prepared explosives; self-adhesive tape; certain articles of unhardened vulcanized rubber; saddlery and harness; specified types of leather gloves and leather clothing accessories; cases, barrels, vats etc., made of wood; flax and ramie yarn; hemp yarn and fabrics of woven yarn; machine-knotted carpets and rugs; shawls, scarves, etc.; certain bed linen, table linen; tarpaulins, tents and camping goods; specified footwear; specified hats; walking sticks; certain types of lighting fixtures; specified articles of jewelry, of platinum; specified kinds of iron or steel wire; certain spoons and forks, of iron or steel; electric welding machines; electric cooking plates; cycles, not motorized; rubber or plastic boats, barges, sports craft with motor; pianos; pipe and reed organs; various types of musical instruments; billiard tables; articles for parlour games; certain appliances and apparatus for gymnastics, sports and outdoor games; roundabouts, swings and other fairground amusements.

END