DENMARK EXTENDS LIBERALIZATION OF IMPORTS

The Danish authorities have informed the Executive Secretary, General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, that as from the beginning of 1964 a further list of commodities has been liberalized when imported into Denmark. These include specified frozen vegetables; specified dehydrated vegetables; certain types of preserved fruits and fruit juices; broken stone, macadam and tarred macadam; aqua vitae, liqueurs and other alcoholic beverages; articles of natural cork; building board of wood fibre; textile hose-piping; worked slate and articles of slate; casks, drums, cans and similar containers with over 20 litres capacity; electric lamps and lightings, of base metal.