In respect of those goods handled, whether imported or made in Uganda, the National Trading Corporation will set up an effective system of distribution throughout the country. The Corporation is also partly responsible for removing the present imbalances between non-Ugandans and Ugandans in commerce by encouraging citizens to enter the field of commerce and trade. The objective is to ensure that Ugandans play an increasingly important role in commerce, a field which has hitherto been dominated by foreigners. The objective is also to sell goods to the common man at the lowest possible price.
