PETROLEOS DEL PERU (PETROPERÚ S.A.)
(Peruvian Oil)

I. SPECIAL CONCESSIONS

(A) Crude oil

(B) Fuels:
- Liquefied gas
- Motor spirit
- Turbine fuel
- Kerosene
- Diesel oil
- Other fuels

(C) Chemical products
- Urea
- Naphthenic acid
- Lamp black
- Isopropyl alcohol
- Acetone

Legal basis
- Legislative Decree No. 43: Law on the Peruvian Oil Enterprise
- Decree Law 18930 of 17 August 1971
- Decree Law 17440 of 19 February 1969
- Decree Law 17753

II. REASONS FOR THE CONCESSION

- The oil industry and trade in petroleum, similar hydrocarbons and their derived products, as well as basic petrochemicals, are of public utility and essential for the complete security of the State.

- To maintain the profitability of production plants, fulfil integration commitments and ensure national supplies of essential and/or strategic goods and products.
III. OPERATION OF THE ENTERPRISE

PETROPERÚ trades on the international market, making exports and/or imports according to the type of transaction carried out.

- In the case of crude oil, only firms which have operating contracts concluded with PETROPERÚ may make export sales.
- PETROPERÚ has the concession for imports of crude oil and fuels.
- Private firms may freely import lubricant bases as an input for preparation of the final product: lubricating oils and greases.
- In the case of petrochemicals, private traders are permitted to import freely (except the products listed in paragraph 1 above).
- There is free competition between private traders in the marketing of the chemical products handled by PETROPERÚ.

DETERMINATION OF QUANTITIES

- The criterion for determining exportable quantities, is the surplus available after national demand has been satisfied.
- The quantities to be imported are determined on the basis of users' requirements on the domestic market.
- Exports may be made to any country without distinction, except where an embargo has been imposed by the United Nations (case of South Africa).
- In making imports, account is taken of the needs of users and of the specifications called for by them and by PETROPERÚ.

COMPARISON OF PRICES

- Export prices fluctuate according to conditions on the international market (determined by supply and demand). The domestic selling price for the same product is based on manufacturing cost and marketing expenses, plus a reasonable profit.
- Resale prices of imports are based on the cost of the product and the profit needed to cover investments and expenses. In the case of fuels, prices are fixed by the Government. The fuels, lubricant bases and chemical products imported by PETROPERÚ are those not produced in the country.
- Long-term contracts are concluded only for fuels and lubricant bases.

PETROPERÚ makes its imports mainly in the United States Gulf and Caribbean areas because conditions of competition are favourable there. Exports are made to Japan under an agreement between PETROPERÚ and JAPECO (Japan Petroleum Oil Company) for the construction of the North Peru Oil Pipeline. Imports are made mainly from the Caribbean area because this market meets our needs.

II. REASONS FOR THE CONCESSION

The importance of the mining and metallurgical sector for the national economy made it possible to set up MINPECO, which is the enterprise responsible for selling, on the various markets of the world, the exportable production of all the State-mining companies.

In the case of zinc concentrates, the reservation of marketing to the State is due to the need to meet current sales commitments.

III. OPERATION OF THE ENTERPRISE

- MINPECO is exclusively concerned with the export of ores.

- It competes freely with domestic and international traders for the production not reserved to it by Legislative Decree No. 44.

- Domestic supplies take priority. Exportable surpluses are calculated by subtracting from total production what is required for the domestic consumption by foundries, refineries and processing plants.

- Exportable surpluses are offered to old or new customers regardless of their geographical situation.

- Domestic prices of mining and metallurgical products are calculated on the basis of reference quotations, freight, insurance, etc.

- MINPECO negotiates and signs long-term contracts with traditional buyers.

- The enterprise has administrative and trading autonomy to attain the objectives assigned to it.
EMPRESA NACIONAL PESQUERA S.A. (PESCAPERÚ S.A.)
(National Fisheries)

I. SPECIAL CONCESSIONS

Imports of fish oil for direct human consumption mixed with vegetable oil.

Legal basis

Legislative Decree No. 17 of 16 January 1981 authorizes PESCAPERÚ to import 60,000 metric tons of fish oil.

III. OPERATION OF THE ENTERPRISE

PESCAPERÚ is an enterprise which carries on production and marketing activities for products prepared from marine biological species for direct or indirect human consumption and for industrial uses.

- The enterprise makes both exports and imports.

- Private traders may import oil, since there is no legal obstacle to their doing so.

- In deciding on imports and/or exports priority is given to the domestic needs of the country.

- Exports are made only under commercially competitive conditions of supply and demand.

- In making imports of oil, assessments are based on expediency, quality and prices offered.

- Domestic prices are fixed on the basis of the average prices of imports and exports during the preceding quarter.

- No long-term contracts are made.
EMPRESA SIDERURGICA DEL PERU (SIDERPERÚ)
(Iron and Steel Corporation of Peru)

I. SPECIAL CONCESSIONS

Corrugated bars for building.

This is the only product which requires a prior import licence (industrial sector transaction).

Legal basis
Ministerial Order No. 380-81 EF/CO.

II. REASONS FOR THIS PREROGATIVE

The prior licensing is to regulate imports in accordance with the production programme of SIDERPERÚ, since otherwise the low tariff for corrugated bars (5 per cent) would encourage uncontrolled imports, which would affect national production.

III. OPERATION OF THE ENTERPRISE

SIDERPERÚ is a producer which markets its own products using distribution channels, either direct or through traders, to reach the final user.

It makes occasional exports and periodical imports, by public tender, of cold-rolled coils for the production of tinplate.

- At present there is free competition between private importers and SIDERPERÚ.

- Private traders are permitted to import iron and steel products.

- Imports are fixed according to the results of the budget for sales and the production programme.
EMPRESA NACIONAL DE COMERCIALIZACION DE INSUMOS (ENCI)
(National Imports Marketing Corporation)

I. PRODUCTS FOR WHICH ENCI HAS EXCLUSIVE MARKETING RIGHTS

(a) Cotton fibre and seed

The Corporation is responsible for the domestic and foreign marketing of all cotton grown in the country.

- Under Decree Law No. 20736 of 17 September 1974, the State assumed exclusive rights for the domestic marketing of cotton fibre and seed, as from the crop-year 1975-76. It undertakes marketing for the Empresa Pública de Harina y Aceite de Pescado (EPCHAP) (Fish Meal and Fish Oil Corporation). Supreme Decision No. 072-78 of 25 October 1978 provides for the transfer of marketing functions from EPCHAP to ENCI.

(b) Coffee

ENCi has the exclusive right to sell, on the international market, the coffee supplied by growers and traders.

Domestic marketing is carried out direct by the growers and traders themselves.

- By Decree Law No. 19832 of December 1972, the State undertook the foreign marketing of coffee, charging the Empresa Pública de Servicios Agropecuarios (EPSA) (Public Agricultural Services) with exclusive responsibility for the export of coffee, and of its sub-products and derivatives of all kinds.
- Supreme Decision No. 072-78-PE of 24 October 1978 provides that ENCI shall be responsible for coffee exports as from 1 November 1978.

(c) Fertilizers

ENCi is exclusively responsible for the import and domestic marketing of fertilizers, including national production. For domestic marketing it uses a network of approximately 350 private sales agents.

- Decree Law No. 20705 of 27 August 1974 grants exclusive rights for the import and domestic marketing of fertilizers.
- Supreme Decision No. 039-76-CO/CI of 17 March 1976 makes ENCI responsible for the marketing of fertilizers produced by FERTISA and INDUS.
- By a contract of 7 December 1976, ENCI assumed responsibility for marketing the ammonium nitrate produced by the Cachimayo Corporation.
- Supreme Decision No. 106-77-C0/AJ of 18 August 1977 makes ENCI exclusively responsible for the domestic and foreign marketing of the national output of phosphate rock.
(d) Food products and inputs

Since the middle of 1979, ENCI has been responsible for the domestic marketing of the food products and inputs which it imports: wheat, maize/sorghum, soya oil and dairy products. As from May 1981, the State terminated the exclusive right of ENCI to import maize and sorghum.

- Ministerial Order No. 00834-79-AA-EPSA of 2 July 1979 transfers to ENCI responsibility for the domestic marketing of wheat, oil inputs and dairy inputs and products.

- Ministerial Order No. 01031-79-AA-ENCI of 24 August 1979 provides for the transfer from EPSA to ENCI of the domestic marketing of maize/sorghum and dried vegetables.

- By an agreement concluded with the Ministry of Health, ENCI undertakes to acquire for that Ministry certain quantities of starchy maize and tarwi, for the School Meals Programme.

II. STATUS OF EACH PRODUCT, REASON AND PURPOSE OF APPLICATION FOR PREROGATIVES

(a) Cotton fibre

- Cotton is a product which is considered essential for the national economy.

- To guarantee the producer the profit due to him, through the free play of undistorted market forces.

- To ensure normal supplies for the national textile industry.

- To ensure adequate supplies of fertilizers in terms of quantity, quality and availability, at the lowest possible cost.

- To promote maximum consumption of fertilizers throughout the country on a rational basis.
- To encourage the adoption of rational consumption patterns through use of the fertilizers which are technically and economically most efficient for each zone or region, giving priority to those produced in Peru.

(d) Food products and inputs

- To ensure national supplies of the food products and inputs essential for the population.
- To reduce marketing costs to a minimum.
- To provide incentives for producers situated in or near rain-forest areas.
- To help improve the diet of the population.

III. OPERATION OF ENCI

The corporation uses three marketing procedures.

(a) For account of the State

For account of the State it handles food products and inputs subject to price controls: maize, wheat, oil inputs and dairy products and inputs.

(b) For account of producers

Under this procedure it markets coffee and cotton. The economic return on sales, less the ENCI commission, is remitted in full to the producers.

(c) For own account

Under this procedure are marketed fertilizers and food products and inputs not subject to price controls, such as potatoes and dried vegetables.

These products, acquired from national production or from abroad, are handled through their full commercial cycle: purchase, storage, distribution and sale, the entrepreneurial risks being borne by ENCI.
EMPRESA COMERCIALIZADORA DEL ARROZ (ECASA)

(Rice Marketing Corporation)
