IMPORT LICENSING PROCEDURES FOR GOODS UNDER CHAPTERS 1-24 OF THE HARMONIZED SYSTEM

Outline of system

1. Basically Sweden has only one licensing system for goods under Chapters 1-24 of the Harmonized System. The Swedish Board of Agriculture is the licensing authority for agricultural products and fertilizers and the National Board of Fisheries is the licensing authority for fish and products of fish.

Purposes and coverage of licensing

An import licence is required from the Swedish Board of Agriculture for seeds of lupin, grafted cherry trees, plum trees, pear trees, and apple trees for imports from all countries except those which have a free trade agreement with Sweden.

All imports (with a few exceptions) from Serbia and Montenegro are banned.

For imports from all countries, an import licence from the National Board of Fisheries is required for the following products:

- herrings, including fillets, salted.

All imports (with a few exceptions) from Iraq, Serbia and Montenegro are banned.

4. The main purposes of the licensing system administered by the Swedish Board of Agriculture and by the National Board of Fisheries are to supervise imports, especially low-price imports, of certain products and to limit, when necessary, such imports. In most cases, licences are granted automatically. Licensing requirements combined with quantitative restrictions are thus normally applied to a small number of products.

5. The licensing system administered by the Swedish Board of Agriculture and by the National Board of Fisheries is based on the Ordinance (1984 No.53) on Import and Export Regulation.

Imports of products under the ordinance are in principle allowed without an import licence from the Swedish Board of Agriculture or the National Board of Fisheries. The Government may, however, authorize the Boards not to allow importation without a licence and such authorizations have also been issued.

Procedures

6. I. The Swedish Board of Agriculture and the National Board of Fisheries issue circulars in which information concerning the scope of the licensing requirements and formalities of filing applications for licences is published. In exceptional cases where quotas are applied, each importer is informed directly about the quantity at his disposal for licences during a certain period. As regards new importers see VIII below.

II. When quotas in exceptional cases are applied they are determined on a yearly or six-monthly basis.

III. Domestic producers do not receive any special part of a quantity released. Licences are granted only for current purchases which in principle have to be proved by a sales contract. In order to check the utilization of the licence, the Board in question requires that the licence should be returned to the Board within a specified period. The names of importers who have obtained licences are, in accordance with existing legislation, not revealed to authorities and export organizations in the exporting country.

IV. A reasonable period of time. See I above.

V. The procedure normally takes a maximum of ten working days.

VI. Licences granted are in principle valid for immediate importation.

VII. As a rule, licence applications are handled only by one administrative authority. In any event the importer has to approach only one authority.

VIII. Quotas, if any, are allocated mainly on the basis of applicants' imports during an earlier base period. A reasonable part of the quota is then reserved for new importers. Applications are examined simultaneously. In cases where restrictions are not combined with fixed quotas, applications are examined on receipt.

IV-X. Does not apply to agricultural or fish products.

XI. Import licences are sometimes issued on condition that the products should be exported and not sold in the domestic market.

7. (a)-(b) There is no minimum time fixed. A licence can be granted immediately on request.

(c) No.

(d) See 6 VII.

8. The reason for a refusal is communicated to the applicant. He can request the Board in question to reconsider the case and subsequently appeal to the Government.

The ordinance is not applicable to goods for which import or export control is regulated according to the statutes mentioned in Annex 1."

Regulations referred to in the first paragraph will be prescribed:

1. for special trade policy reasons;
2. in view of risk of disturbance in the social economy or the national supply;
3. in order to protect the prices of agricultural products; or
4. in order to regulate the prices of fish products."
