CERTIFICATES OF ORIGIN

Views of Contracting Parties on International Chamber of Commerce Proposals

The following statement has been received from the Government of Denmark:

DENMARK

"The administrative authorities enforcing the current Danish import regulations do not require the production of a certificate of origin apart from those few cases in which foreign requests to do so have been complied with.

"The certificates of origin are issued by the Danish customs administration and by a suitable number of qualified trade organizations.

"For practical reasons, the organizations entitled to issue certificates do not generally find it appropriate that traders themselves prepare declarations on the origin of goods on commercial invoices subject to visa by a competent body. The organizations will not be willing in all instances to visa the declaration as formulated by the trader and furthermore traders will often be unaware of the form and content of the declarations required by the importing country."
