Dear Sir,

We have pleasure in sending you "Barclays Guide for Exporters" Volumes I, II and III issued by Barclays Bank Limited, London; and which they have kindly made available for distribution by us to our liaison agencies in developing countries.

Though these guides are specifically designed to help British exporters, we feel that they can also be of use to developing countries interested in the same markets. They were recently reviewed on page 2 of the May issue of the Supplement to the International Trade Forum.

We trust they will be useful to you.

Yours faithfully,

H.L. Jacobson
Director of the Centre
