GATT BIBLIOGRAPHY

This bibliography is a list of books, pamphlets, articles in periodicals, newspaper reports and editorials, and miscellaneous items including texts of lectures, which refer to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. It covers a period of approximately seven years. For six of these years - from the beginning of 1948 - the GATT has been in operation.

The purpose of the list is a practical one: to provide sources of reference for historians, researchers and students. The list, it must be emphasized, is limited to the formation and operation of the GATT; for reasons of length, the history of the Havana Charter and its preparation and references to the proposed International Trade Organization, which has not been brought into being, have been somewhat rigidly excluded, while emphasis has been put on references that show the operational aspects of the GATT.

The bibliography is divided into the following sections:

1. the text of the GATT and governmental publications;

2. selected GATT publications; (the full list of GATT publications is obtainable from the secretariat on request)

3. a chronological listing of references to the GATT. This has been subdivided into the following periods, the references being listed alphabetically in each period:

1947 ............ including the Geneva tariff negotiations (April-August) and the completion of the GATT

1948 ............ including the first two sessions of the GATT (March at Havana, and August-September at Geneva)

1949 ............ including the Canada tariff negotiations and the third session (April-August)

1950 to July 1951* including the fourth session (February-April, 1950), the Torquay negotiations (September 1950-April 1951) and the fifth session (November-December 1950)

August-December 1951 including the sixth session (September-October)

1952 ............ including the seventh session (October-November)

1953 ............ including the eighth session (September-October)

* This extended period brings together all the items concerning the Torquay tariff conference.
Students of international commercial policies will undoubtedly be familiar with the series of reports that have been made in recent years in the United States on various aspects of United States foreign trade and domestic economy, notably the Report on Foreign Economic Policies (Gray Report) November 1950, the Report of the Materials Policy Commission (Paley Report) July 1952, the Report of the Public Advisory Board on a Trade and Tariff Policy (Bell Report) March 1953, and the Report of the Commission on Foreign Economic Policy (Randall Report) January 1954, and such non-official studies as that concerning the United States Tariff and Trade Agreements Act made in 1953 by the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy. These reports and studies comment on the operation of the GATT as part of or incidental to the matters under study. But since they are not primarily concerned with the GATT, they are omitted from the bibliography.
