INTRODUCTION

The Survey of Developments in Commercial Policy is a review, prepared by the GATT secretariat under its own responsibility, of actions or decisions taken in the area of commercial policy during the reference period, in various countries. It includes information on contracting parties to GATT, on non-contracting parties and on bilateral and regional agreements.

The Survey is published four times a year.

The Survey is based on information available to the secretariat in the form of GATT documents and various published sources. It covers the introduction of new trade measures including, in some instances, those of a provisional or interim character, or their abolition, as well as substantial changes in existing measures. It also covers certain types of investigations. The secretariat has endeavoured to include all measures of significant trade interest; but the coverage may not necessarily be exhaustive or uniform. The coverage of measures taken by some countries is more extensive than that of others because of the availability of information. The Survey relates, inter alia, to:

- import duties;
- tariff quotas;
- anti-dumping and anti-subsidy measures;
- import taxes and surcharges;
- prior import deposits;
- quantitative import restrictions;
- export restraints;
- emergency actions.

The secretariat would welcome its attention being drawn to any errors or significant omissions. Where the information derives from unofficial sources, such as newspapers, the secretariat has made efforts to check the facts with official sources. The secretariat would appreciate any help that delegations can give in the preparation of future Surveys to make sure that they are as timely and accurate as possible.

Two copies of the Survey are being sent to each contracting party. Additional copies are available upon request.

Any reference to information contained or reflected in the Survey should not be cited to this document, but rather to the source indicated in the Survey.
SUMMARY OF COMMERCIAL POLICY DEVELOPMENTS

This issue of the Survey of Developments in Commercial Policy lists seventy countries and the EEC which, according to the sources used, have introduced trade policy measures during the September-November 1983 period.

Import tariff increases were reported to have been introduced by thirty-eight of these countries and import tariff decreases were reported to have been decided upon by seventeen of the countries listed.

Thirty-one of the countries listed introduced new or intensified existing quantitative restrictions, while six countries relaxed trade restrictions.

Among the other trade policy measures, whose nature and coverage is of a large variety, it is apparent that appreciable use has been made of voluntary export restraint agreements during the period under consideration. There has also been a marked increase in the number of bilateral trade agreements during that period.

ALGERIA

Supplementary Finance Act for 1983

With regard to indirect taxes and external trade and exchange control, the main changes arising therefrom are the following:

1. Increase in the fixed duty and non-recurring charges applicable to imports of high-octane petrol and spirit other than aviation spirit.

2. Imports without payment of new capital equipment not intended for resale within the country:

   (a) Operations with an f.o.b. value of less than DA 100,000 may be carried out without formalities in respect of the regulations governing external trade and exchange. Customs duties and taxes in force on the date of importation must be paid in dinars.

   The Algerian authorities will draw up in due course the list of capital goods which can benefit from this procedure and the conditions of resale, where necessary, of the goods concerned.

   (b) Imports with a f.o.b. value higher than DA 100,000 are subject to the legislation in force and must be authorized in advance.

ARGENTINA

Import tariff amendments

Ministry of Economy Resolutions 763/83 and 788/83, published in the Boletin Oficial 18 and 20 July 1983 respectively, amended the Argentine customs tariff as follows:

The import duty on methyl polymethacrylate, under tariff heading 39.02.23.02.02 was amended to 38 per cent.

The import duties on methoclopramide and its chlorhydrates, under tariff heading 29.25.00.02.55, was changed to 0 per cent.

The import duty on lead waste and residue, under tariff heading 78.01.01.00.00, was changed to 37 per cent.
ARGENTINA (cont'd)

The duty on motorized aerial trolley systems, under tariff heading 84.22.06.01.12 was altered to 32 per cent.

AUSTRALIA

Tariff changes on canned fruits

New tariff arrangements have been implemented by the Australian Government to provide all sectors of the canning fruit industry with the same import protection as that for other comparable industries. A general rate of duty of 10 per cent ad valorem now applies to imports of canned peaches, pears, and apricots. A 15 per cent duty will apply for canned pineapple up to 1 July 1985, at which time it will drop to 12.5 per cent. A year later it will be lowered to 10 per cent.

Tariff quota for room air conditioners introduced

The Government has decided to introduce tariff quotas on room air conditioners. During the period 1 July 1983 to 30 June 1984, imports of unitary air conditioning machines falling within sub-item 84.12.1 in Schedule 3 to the Customs Tariff Act 1982, being machines of the portable type, of the fixed window mounted type, or the fixed wall mounted type, but excluding parts therefor will be subject to tariff quota. However, goods of Forum Island countries origin, of Papua New Guinea origin and of New Zealand origin are exempt from tariff quota control and remain free of quantitative restraint. The tariff quota ceiling will be 55 per cent of imports during 1982/83 (on a volume basis). Existing rates of duty will continue for goods imported within quota; imports in excess of quota will attract an additional duty of 150 per cent. Quota category number 309 has been allocated to the new commodity.

Imports of uncanned salmon subject to import permit

On 25 July 1983, the Australian Department of Health issued new instructions regarding the importation of uncanned salmon.
AUSTRALIA (cont'd)

From 1 September 1983 exporters of uncanned salmon to Australia must obtain an import permit. Also "cold smoked" salmon may not be imported unless a voucher is produced showing that it has been processed in such a way as to inactivate causative organisms of salmonids.

Import quota arrangements for textiles, clothing and footwear

For 1983 and the remainder of the seven-year programme, there will be no automatic extension of base quota beyond the end of each quota year for textiles, clothing and footwear. Consideration will be given on a case by case basis, to properly documented requests for extension which meet the following specific criteria:

(a) For quota allocations to be eligible for extension, the goods concerned must have been loaded on to a ship or aircraft which, at the time of its departure from the port of export, was scheduled to arrive in the Australian port of destination on or prior to the date of expiry of the quota instrument.

(b) Delays after the goods are loaded, which are beyond the control of both importer and exporter are the only circumstances in which extensions of quota will be considered. Manufacturing delays, unavailability of raw materials, etc., are not grounds for extension.

Anti-dumping legislation amendments

The Australian Federal Government is to introduce amending legislation during the current session of parliament to speed up dumping and countervailing investigations and strengthen anti-dumping procedures. Under the proposed changes the Australian customs services will be required to arrive at a preliminary finding as to whether there is a case of dumping or subsidization within 45 days of accepting a complaint. If the finding is positive, the investigation will be completed within 120 days. The new legislation will include provision for sales made at a loss in an exporting country over an extended period of time to be disregarded in assessing "normal" value. "Normal" value will be the domestic price in the exporting country, against which the export price will be compared in dumping investigations.

Import plan for 1983-4

The Bangladesh authorities have published the import plan for the period 1 July 1983 to 30 June 1984. Among the principal changes incorporated in the new plan are the introduction of open general licences which entitle certain importers to open letters of credit without obtaining import licences, and authorization to import goods up to a value of US$500 per annum without opening letters of credit. In addition, under the "Wage Earners Scheme" Bangladeshis who have earned foreign exchange abroad are permitted to use this foreign exchange to import a wider range of goods into Bangladesh than was previously possible.

BRAZIL

Import tariff amendments

A series of Resolutions of the Customs Policy Council, published in the Diario Oficial 19 July 1983, amended the Brazilian customs tariff as follows:

Resolution 01-0494 increased the import duty on paper of any format, having marks or printing, whether or not perforated, for use solely in electrocardiography, under tariff heading 48.2113.00 'ex', from 9 per cent to 35 per cent.

Resolution 02-0495 reduced the import duty for a period of up to one year from 20 August 1983 from 205 per cent to 5 per cent on "tubes and minitubes for the conditioning of animal semen in doses and for direct use in the artificial insemination of animals" under tariff heading 39.07.99.00 'ex'.

Resolution 05-0496 granted exemption from import duty for a period of up to one year on goods of the following headings: 74.01.02.00; 74.01.03.01; 74.01.03.02; 74.01.03.03; 74.01.03.04.

Resolution 05-0497 granted exemption from import duty on "iron sponge", under tariff heading 73.05.02.00 for a period of up to one year.

Resolution 05-0500 reduced the import duty on a quota of 431,978.66 kg. of "n-phosphonomethylglycine" under tariff heading 29.34.99.00 where this is solely for the manufacture of agricultural chemicals and is imported under an import licence issued before 19 July 1983.
BRAZIL (cont'd)

Resolution 05-0502 granted exemption from import duty on a quota of 1,000,000 tonnes of grain wheat, under tariff heading 10.01.00.00 for a period of six months.

CANADA

Findings by the Anti-dumping Tribunal

The Canadian Anti-dumping Tribunal issued the following findings:

Wide flange steel shapes, beams, columns, or sections with a total out-to-out depth of less than 25 inches, (i.e. the depth between the outside surface of the flanges), to include H-beams, H-piles, H-bearing piles, bearing piles; miscellaneous light wide flange columns, beams and H-beam shapes; parallel flange beams and columns; universal beams, columns and bearing piles; broad flange beams and shapes and wide flange stanchions originating in or exported from Belgium, the Federal Republic of Germany, the Republic of Korea and Spain, on 14 October 1983:

(a) the dumping into Canada of the subject goods originating in or exported from Belgium, the Federal Republic of Germany and the Republic of Korea, with the exception of the sections listed in Annex I to this finding, has caused, is causing and is likely to cause material injury to the production in Canada of like goods, but that

(b) the dumping into Canada of the subject goods originating in or exported from Spain has not caused, is not causing nor is likely to cause material injury to the production in Canada of like goods.

CHINA, PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF

Import ban for US cotton, soybeans and chemical fibres lifted

The People's Republic of China has lifted the ban on imports of US cotton, soybeans and chemical fibres. The ban was imposed by China in retaliation against the US imposition of quotas on Chinese textiles in January 1983. China had already sharply reduced imports of these items, due largely to good harvests of cotton and soybeans. Imports of US chemical fibres fell before the ban, from US$269.6 million in 1981 to US$124.5 million in the first eleven months of 1982.

Under the US-China four-year grains agreement, China is required to buy 6 million metric tons of grains annually from the United States. The agreement contains an escape clause which allows for a reduction of this amount if China's imports from other suppliers are also reduced and the United States is treated as favourably as other suppliers.

Changes in import regulations

Under a Decree of the Minister of Trade of 7 September 1983, imports of industrial products whose trading is regulated by the appointment of trading corporations/state enterprises will also be permitted by registered producer importers provided that the products have been included in the list of basic complimentary materials needed for the importer's own processing. Products exempted from the above provisions are:

- Iron or steel products whose import trade is regulated by the appointment of PT Krakatau Steel as the Centre for Steel Procurement;

- Products whose import trade is regulated through the Board of Logistics (BULO);

- Products whose import trade is regulated on the basis of the quota system;

- Products whose import trade is regulated separately, namely: milk basic materials; lubricants; fertilizer; cloves; explosives; coconut oil; garlic; canned foods and drinks and fresh fruits.

IRAN

Pre-shipment inspection

The Central Bank has issued a new circular concerning the inspection of Iranian imports. It stipulates that all imports into Iran over Rls 500,000 in value bought under a documentary credit must be accompanied by an inspection certificate issued at the time of loading before monies will be released. In addition the inspection certificate must be authorized by the local chamber of commerce and that authorization must in turn be notarized by the local Iranian embassy. Only the four following named inspection companies are authorized to issue such certificates: Griffiths, SGS, Lloyds and Cotecna.

Restrictions on imports by air

Restrictions on imports by air have been introduced by Iraq. Such imports require special approvals, but these are rarely given, even for the most urgent parts and supplies and, as a result, many items which would normally travel by air relatively cheaply and safely must now be transported overland. The main customs clearance facilities, through which all Baghdad-bound cargo carried by road must pass, is located 50 km from the city and is not geared to handle small packets.

Labelling and marking requirements

The Japanese Ministry of Health and Welfare has given notice that it intends to require all domestic food manufacturers and importers to include the chemical names of all food additives on product labels. There will be a two-year grace period before such regulations are introduced. At present, the regulations require only that the purpose of the additive be stated (e.g. artificial sweetener, synthetic colouring or preservative) and then only for a list of sixty-eight chemically synthesized food additives out of a total of 347 approved synthetic and 700 natural additives.

Export restraint agreements with the EEC

Japan and the EEC have agreed on the maximum permissible quantity of exports of video cassette recorders (VCRs) by Japan to the EEC in 1984 in the context of the three-year restraint agreement negotiated in 1983. Completed VCR exports will not exceed 3.95 million units, and European manufacturers are to be guaranteed a market of 1.3 million units within the EEC.

Japan has also agreed to restrain exports of colour TV tubes, colour TV sets, certain machine tools, small commercial vehicles, forklifts, motorcycles, quartz watches, acoustic equipment and passenger cars. In particular, Japan has agreed to limit exports of colour TV tubes to a level of less than 900,000 units in 1984.

Suspension of customs duties

Two decrees published in the Official Gazette of 3 and 17 August 1983 modify the duties and taxes payable on imports of certain goods into Morocco as follows:

1. Decree No. 965-83 of 2 August 1983

The duties and taxes applicable to the products and materials described below are suspended where the goods in question are intended for agriculture:
MOROCCO (cont'd)

Ex 39.02: Artificial resins, in granules, for retaining water in the soil;
Ex 84.21: Mobile and pivot sprays for liquids and powders;
Ex 84.22: Lifting and loading machinery for sugar cane;
Ex 84.59: Anti-freeze blowers;
Ex 33.04: Cloud cannon devices.

This suspension applies also to manufactured products and materials admitted under the heading of temporary importation and used accordingly.

2. Decree No. 465-83 of 15 August 1983

Certain petroleum products (Tariff headings 27.01, 27.02, 27.03, 27.05 and 27.14) are exempt from customs duties.

Tariff changes

Under two circulars issued by the Directorate-General of Customs on 12 October 1983, the following changes have been made to the Moroccan customs tariff:

Circular No. 3811

With effect from 8 June 1983, import duties and charges on revenue stamps (tariff heading ex 49.07 A) have been suspended.

Circular No. 3810

Since 10 October 1983 new sub-headings have been included in tariff headings 48.07, 68.13 and 73.18 with the following effects:

1. A reduction in the customs duty rate set at 5 per cent for certain asbestos paper, paper board and felt intended for the manufacture of gaskets for thermal engines and imported directly by manufacturers (tariff headings ex 48.07 and ex 68.13).

2. An increase in the customs duty rate to 20 per cent for certain tubes and pipes of iron or steel, of a wall-thickness exceeding 2 mm, cone-shaped with a circular or polygonal cross-section (tariff-heading ex 73.18).

Import restrictions relaxed

Import restrictions imposed in March 1983 have been relaxed considerably to allow greater movement of equipment and spare parts. Restrictions have been eased by moving products from the List B schedule of imports - for which lengthy licensing procedures are required - to List A, where formalities are much simpler.

Products which have been restored to List A include most vehicle spares, a wide range of other parts for mechanical and electrical equipment, and other manufactured products, including electrical and electronic components, some office equipment items, and specialized oils and waxes. Several raw materials have been taken off List B. They include rubber, cocoa, asbestos, white and other specialized cements, magnesium, beryllium, tungsten, molybdenum and tantalum.

Prior deposit régime for imports (see Survey No. 18, page 73)

Under Exchange Bureau Circular No. 1423 of 2 May 1983, the Moroccan authorities adopted new provisions regarding the prior deposit on imports. Under that Circular, transactions involving imports of capital goods carried out by undertakings which export, or undertake to export, at least 25 per cent of their turnover are exempted from the deposit requirement.

Circular No. 1431 of 5 August 1983 specifies the conditions under which this exemption may be granted:

1. General exemption

   Exporting enterprises may, when importing equipment listed in the annex to the Circular, obtain an automatic exemption from the deposit requirement if, at the time of bank domiciliation, they present an attestation from the Exchange Bureau certifying their status as exporter. The attestation, which is valid for six months from its date of issue, must be renewed periodically.

2. Specific exemption

   To obtain a waiver of the deposit requirement for the import of capital goods not listed in the annex, exporting enterprises must submit an application for authorization of exemption to the Exchange Bureau. Such specifically granted authorization must be obtained for each import transaction.

NEW ZEALAND

Import licensing changes

(a) Pineapples and prepared and processed fruit. Import Control Exemption Notice (No. 34) 1982 provides for the exemption of pineapples of tariff item 20.06.081 and for an exemption for prepared and processed fruit of tariff item 20.06.089 under the fruit canning industry plan.

(b) Electric fencing yarn. Customs Department has decided that electric fencing yarn, comprising textile threads with a metal thread incorporated, are properly classified as metallized yarn of tariff heading 52.01 rather than as an article falling within Chapter 59. This decision had the effect of transferring electric fencing yarn from a controlled to an exempt import licensing item code. Because this is a product developed and produced in New Zealand it has been decided to amend the exemption for metallized yarn to exclude electric fencing yarn and to restore import licensing protection to the New Zealand industry.

Import Control Exemption Notice (No. 35) 1982 provides for this by:

(i) Withdrawing the present exemption for metallized yarn of tariff item 52.01.000.

(ii) Creating exemption for metallized yarn of tariff items 52.01.000.01K; 52.01.000.11G; 52.01.000.29K.

(iii) Creating exemption for electric fencing yarn of tariff item 52.01.000.21D when imported from and being the produce or manufacture of Australia.
NEW ZEALAND (cont'd)

(c) Reptile, bird and fish leather. Import Control Exemption Notice (No. 2) 1983-1984 provides for the exemption of reptile, bird and fish leather of tariff item ex 41.05.000.19C and the extension of the existing exemption for children's footwear up to and including size 9 1/2.

(d) Glassware. The Customs Tariff (Miscellaneous) Amendment Order (No. 2) 1983 provides for amendments to the Customs Tariff including amendments to Tariff Chapter 70 to give effect to the recommendations of the Glassware Industry Study. As a consequence of these amendments it is necessary to amend existing exemptions from import control for glassware of tariff heading 70.13, to maintain alignment with the tariff. Import Control Exemption Notice (No. 3) 1983-1984 provides for amendment to the exemptions for infants' feeding bottles of tariff item 70.13.011, crystal glassware, of tariff items 70.13.021, 70.13.031, 70.13.061 and 70.13.071, and capacity measures of glass of tariff item ex 70.13.039.59F.

The exemption notice also creates a new exemption, covering heat-resistant ovenproof glass casseroles, frying pans, ramekins and saucepans of tariff items 70.13.081.01C to 70.13.081.29C, to give effect to a further recommendation of the Glassware Industry Study. Articles such as drinking glasses, bowls, cups, saucers, plates and dishes, are specifically excluded and remain subject to import licensing control.

(e) Ceramic dinner sets. Import Control Exemption Notice (No. 4) 1983-1984 provides for an increase in the break points for ceramic dinner sets from $11.50 to $12.50 per kg. and for cooking utensils and other articles of ceramic tableware from $8.50 to $9.00 per kg., to compensate for increases in landed prices, (as a result of recent exchange-rate movements).

ROMANIA

Tax concessions and Special Fund for the promotion and support of exports

The Romanian State Council has issued Decrees to encourage enterprises and workers to increase export-oriented production and to improve the efficiency of foreign trade negotiations. The Decrees came into force on 1 September 1983 and were published in the Official Journal of the Romanian Socialist Republic No. 71 of 22 September 1983.

For enterprises engaged in manufacturing export products, Decree No. 348 states that profits from exported goods must be greater than profits from goods destined to be sold on the domestic market. For this reason, export enterprises will benefit from tax concessions. In order to promote the sale of Romanian goods abroad and to cover Romanian enterprises entering new foreign markets, the Foreign Trade Ministry has furthermore established a Special Fund for the promotion and support of exports. The Fund will be financed from the State budget and will be managed by the Governmental Commission for External Prices and Foreign Trade.

SAUDI ARABIA

Duty increase

In accordance with a Gulf Co-operation Council (GCC) decision to introduce a unified customs levy among its member countries, Saudi Arabia has raised duty from 3 to 4 per cent on selected commodities amounting to half its total imports. These include vehicles and spare parts, clothes, power tools and canned food. Duty-free commodities such as basic foods, raw materials and industrial, agricultural and health equipment will not be affected by the tariff increase. However, the GCC ruling is not clear about tariffs in the 10 to 20 per cent range; these were originally introduced to protect domestic industries.

New foreign exchange system regarding importation of goods

Following the abolition of the two-tier exchange rate system introduced in December 1982 and the fixing of the official and commercial rates of exchange at Le 2.50 to the US dollar from 1 July 1983, new foreign exchange arrangements in respect of the importation of goods have been announced.

A release from the Bank of Sierra Leone announced that a Foreign Exchange Allocation Committee (comprising government representatives, the Bank of Sierra Leone, the commercial banks, the Chamber of Commerce, the manufacturing industry and the Sierra Leone Labour Congress) has been established to supervise the operation of the new allocation system. The Committee will be guided primarily by certain broad categories of priority items such as essential foods including onions, sugar, milk, baby food, tomato paste, treated leaf tobacco, drugs and hospital equipment, education materials including textbooks and school uniform materials, and spare parts for vehicles and agricultural machinery.

The new system which replaces the tender system which was abolished in July requires that orders in respect of imports can only be placed (a) after obtaining the necessary import licence and exchange control approval and (b) only against the establishment of letters of credit of local commercial banks or after receipt of foreign exchange on terms and conditions determined by the Foreign Exchange Allocation Committee.

Goods brought into the country in contravention of the regulations will be deemed to have been imported illegally, and will be confiscated and/or a fine imposed on the importer. Goods imported under lines of credit and now at the quayside will be cleared through customs without the payment of the 50 per cent deposit on the invoice value stipulated. Moreover, the leone value of deposits made in respect of such goods already cleared through customs will be released to the importer provided that there is a written undertaking not to request, at any time, foreign exchange for the settlement of invoices relating to such goods.

The system of importing goods against the utilization of credit lines held abroad as well as any other form of special unnumbered licences have been banned.

With regard to export, all exports except diamonds shall now be made only against exports letters of credit opened with the Bank of Sierra Leone.

New investment code, exemptions from customs duties for capital goods

Following the enactment of the Development of Industries Bill, 1983 by Parliament, Sierra Leone's new Investment Code has come into operation. Certain incentives have been listed in the Code, such as:

(i) preferential treatment with respect to the granting and processing of import licences;

(ii) partial or total exemption from customs duty payable on capital equipment, raw materials and other intermediate goods for those approved projects which will otherwise not be viable financially;

(iii) relief from surtax for such period or not exceeding five years as the Project Approval Committee may determine that such relief shall not apply to the extent that their total amount during the tax holiday period exceeds 150 per cent per annum of the original capital invested; and,

(iv) relief from income tax in such manner and for such period not exceeding five years as the Project Approval Committee may determine.

In addition, an industrial establishment which exports an approved percentage of its products shall be eligible to apply for the Export Guarantee Scheme established by the Bank of Sierra Leone. Any industrial establishment registered under union status will have the added advantage of exemption from the payment of export tariffs.

Import prohibition for products containing cadmium

Under a Swedish decree, since 1 July 1982 the use of cadmium or chemical compounds containing cadmium as a dye, stabilizer or agent for surface treatment has been prohibited in Sweden. Products in which cadmium is used for those uses are consequently prohibited for import. Nevertheless, the decree established a list of exceptions and tolerances, limited in time, for a number of products.

As a general rule, an exception is allowed until the end of 1985 for dyes and stabilizers and until the end of 1987 for surface treatment.

The Swedish environmental protection authorities are currently studying the possibility of extending the existing tolerances and, in the first place, those due to expire on 31 December 1985.

Measures to improve exports

As part of a broader effort to reduce the balance-of-payments deficit, the Tunisian Government has adopted a bill at the beginning of October 1983 which aims to create export societies whose essential role will be to find outlets for small and medium-sized firms.

A further bill aims to establish an export credit insurance company which will cover the risks of the exporters on the commercial as well as the political plane. Other measures to promote exports include the sale of tax-free goods to non-residents subject to payment in foreign currency. The new sales system will apply to products such as textiles, electrical household equipment, cosmetics and arts and crafts and to every purchase of at least D 50 (D 1 = $1.45). The non-resident will pay the normal price in the shop and will be reimbursed on leaving Tunisia (at ports, airports, etc.) for the amount of tax paid. The authorities calculate that this measure, designed to stimulate tourist spending, will bring an increase in sales revenue of D 80-110 million a year. Yet another measure aims to stimulate exports by Tunisian industrialists by allowing them to benefit from a quota of supplementary imports for every quantity of exported goods.

Import duties on semi-conductors in US-Japan trade lifted

The United States and Japan have mutually agreed to lift the 4.2 per cent import duty on semi-conductors. The agreement is to be confirmed by an exchange of notes. In addition to eliminating the duty, it was recommended that the two countries promote mutual investments in related industries, and that Japan import more semi-conductors from the United States.

Japanese semi-conductor imports from the US increased 20.3 per cent during the first nine months of 1983. Its exports to the US - mainly integrated circuits - were up 58 per cent.

Subject to legislative approval, the measure is expected to take effect from 1 April 1984.

New Export Administration Act

The United States House of Representatives has approved a new Export Administration Act which reduces the President's authority to control exports for national security or foreign policy reasons. The legislation eliminates national security export licensing requirements for shipments to allies that maintain controls co-operatively with the United States. It prohibits all new US investment in South Africa until apartheid policies are ended. The bill will make it more difficult for the Administration to restrict trade for national security reasons when the same technology is available from other countries. It will require the US Commerce Department to conduct annual reviews to determine which exports unilaterally controlled by the US had been denied licences during the year. If no applications were denied, the product would be decontrolled. The legislation will also prohibit the curbing of exports of foreign-based subsidiaries of US companies or foreign owned licensees and it will remove agricultural goods from export controls for foreign policy reasons.

Compensatory export requirements for imports of motor vehicles

The Ministries of Industry and Energy and Economy and Finance passed a Decree 233/983 on the motor vehicle industry on 2 July 1983.

The main provisions of the Decree are as follows:

Compensatory exports on imports of kits for local assembling:
URUGUAY (cont'd)

Category
A. (trucks) 30 per cent (previously 40 per cent)
B. (buses) 30 per cent (not previously included)
C. (passenger cars up to 1000 cm$^3$) 45 per cent (previously 30 per cent)
D. (passenger cars over 1000 cm$^3$) 45 per cent (previously 30 per cent)
E. (vans) 45 per cent (previously 30 per cent)
F. (motorcycles) 45 per cent (previously 30 per cent)
G. (tractors) 0 per cent (unchanged)
H. (four-wheel-drive vehicles) 30 per cent (unchanged)

Locally assembled cars for taxi and hire service 30 per cent (unchanged).

The percentage for compensatory export for all imported made-up vehicles other than tractors is set at 60 per cent.

The above figures are increased by 10 points until 31 July 1984.

Percentages of compulsory local content were set as follows: Category A (trucks) 20 per cent (previously 32 per cent); B (buses) to be set at a later stage by the Ministry of Industry and Energy as there were no previous regulations. All other categories 25 per cent.

Any model of car may now be locally assembled. Previously local assembly was limited to models under 1600 cm$^3$.

Local assembly firms are now authorized to import any models which are mechanically similar to the models included in their local assembly programmes. (Previously they were only authorized to import made-up cars up to 5 per cent of total of imports of kits).

Imports of any model and any capacity are now authorized.

The import duties on kits and made-up cars have been set as follows: kits of vehicles under categories A-H, 10 per cent; made-up vehicles under categories A-H 55 per cent; made-up tractors 10 per cent.

The basis for duty of the import duty is set at US$3.20/kg. This is in force until 31 December 1984.

New import tariff adopted

In September 1983 the authorities of Zaire adopted a new import tariff. The principal changes are the following:

The customs duty, revenue duty, temporary tax and statistical tax have been replaced by a single charge designated "entry duty".

The rate of turnover tax has been raised from 3 per cent on the customs-cleared c.i.f. value to 20 per cent on the customs value (with the exception of certain products which are exempt or for which a consumption tax is charged in place of turnover tax).

The cumulative rates of the new import duties range from 3 per cent (staple foodstuffs, medicaments, fertilizers and other products for agriculture as well as motor-vehicle parts, etc.) to 200 per cent (certain luxury items).

Import prohibition

Under Circular No. 200 of 10 September 1983, amending Circular No. 178 of 17 June 1981, the Central Bank of Zaire has published a list of products which are prohibited for import into Zaire.

List A covers certain arms, explosives, ammunition, tanks, warships, etc. The prohibition does not cover imported arms for the Armed Forces of Zaire nor arms for or belonging to persons holding a permit delivered by the competent Departments of the Executive Council.

List B covers certain other products such as alcoholic beverages, coin-operated machines, certain toxic and poisonous substances, old clothing and rags, certain woven fabrics of cotton, gloves, stockings, socks, cotton underwear, cotton bed linen, table linen, toilet linen and kitchen linen, used vehicles unless authorized by the Department of National Economy, electric apparatus for wire telephone or telegraph. The prohibition does not apply to imports carried out by importers holding an authorization granted by the competent Departments of the Executive Council.

ZIMBABWE

Sales tax and surtax increases; customs and excise duties imposed on passenger motor cars and lorries

With effect from 1 August 1983 the rate of sales tax has been increased; the 16 per cent rate has been increased to 18 per cent and the 19 per cent rate to 23 per cent. At the same time it was proposed that a range of goods formerly at the lower level would be included at the higher rate. These are: records and tapes, photographic films in rolls, alcoholic beverages, including beer, cider, liquors, spirits and wine, manufactured tobacco products, smokers and smoking requisites such as pipes, lighters, cigarette and cigar holders, perfumery, cosmetic or toilet preparations for personal use excluding toothpaste and soap, clothing accessories wholly or predominantly of natural furskin, jewellery and imitation jewellery, goldsmith's and silversmith's wares or precious metal or rolled precious metal, paintings and pictures, boats, launches, yachts and other vessels excluding commercial, fishing and passenger vessels, firearms and ammunition.

Surtax on imported goods was increased by 5 per cent to 20 per cent from 29 July 1983.

From 29 July 1983 the following two measures took effect: an excise duty of 15 per cent ad valorem on passenger motor cars made in Zimbabwe and a customs duty of 15 per cent ad valorem on imported lorries and vans whether in assembled or unassembled form.

ALGERIA - TUNISIA

Reinforcement of economic co-operation and trade

Algeria and Tunisia have recently agreed to reinforce co-operation in transport, housing, education and scientific research and energy.

In the field of energy, the Tunisian Electricity and Gas Company (STEG) and its Algerian counterpart (SONELGAZ) signed an agreement on 6 October 1983 covering the strengthening of co-operation in various sectors. Under the terms of the agreement, the two companies foresee the matching of equipment used as well as an exchange of electricity by strengthening the interconnections between the Algerian and Tunisian high tension network. The agreement, which will last for five years, also plans the electrification of villages on the Algerian/Tunisian border, the unification of the programmes of the two companies in personnel training and the exchange of specialists.

A joint communiqué from the two sides also stressed the desire of the two countries for the realization of complementary economic relations in the field of energy and the petrochemical industry. Concerning the latter, in order to facilitate trade, the two parties would like to see a pairing up of specifications in refined oil products. They also foresee the "optimal and rational" use of their respective country's potential, the to jointly exploit their mineral resources. They have also agreed to co-operate in the supply of raw materials for use by their light industries. To this end, experts from both countries will meet in Accra early in 1984. In the area of fisheries, livestock, and food crops, the two sides agreed to exchange experts. Benin said it was ready, depending on the availability, to resume the supply of maize, palm oil, and palm oil seedlings to Ghana. Impediments to trade between the two countries were also identified and it was decided as a matter of urgency that experts from the two sides would meet in Cotonou before the end of 1983 to find the best way to overcome them.

BRAZIL - NIGERIA

Payments convention concluded to revive trade

In an attempt to revive a bilateral trade which has slumped to a quarter of its 1981 peak of $1.5 billion, Brazil and Nigeria have agreed to conclude a 90-day payments convention. Brazil has identified Nigeria's difficulty in making payments abroad as the principal obstacle to a potentially large revival in their trade.

Nigeria had expressed an interest in a wide variety of Brazilian domestic goods, such as lamps, ovens and refrigerators, as well as clothes, cars and foodstuffs, including chicken and meat.

A credit payments arrangement would probably have a ceiling in the range of $100 million to $150 million, with accounts settled every quarter. Brazil already operates similar conventions with Argentina and Mexico, which it uses to import grain and oil.

The two Governments have also reached agreement on the sale of Brazilian weapons to the Nigerian armed forces. According to press reports, arms sales worth up to $2 billion were being discussed.

The overall target is to increase Brazilian exports to Nigeria to $500 million a year level, double last year's total of $245 million. In 1981 Brazilian exports, mostly of manufactured goods, came to $729 million.

BRAZIL - SOVIET UNION

Diversification of Brazilian exports

The diversification of Brazilian exports to the Soviet Union - through the supply of cotton, bauxite, soluble coffee, textiles, unprocessed wood, pulp, steel products and machines and equipment - was one of the matters discussed at the ninth meeting of the USSR-Brazil Intergovernmental Commission held in July 1983.

Among the other matters concluded were increased sales of petroleum to Brazil and Brazilian exports of meat and soybeans to the USSR; the establishment of commercial bases of collaboration in the repair of Soviet ships in Brazilian shipyards; the continuity of the co-operation agreement involving the production of wood-based ethanol; and the signing of a protocol between a consortium of Brazilian companies and "Technopromexport" of the USSR, in order to define the technical aspects for co-operation in the construction of the Ilha Grande hydroelectric plant in Brazil.

1983/84 trade protocol signed

China and the Sudan have agreed a 1983/84 trade protocol worth $100 million. Sudan's major export to China under its $50 million share will again be cotton, followed by gum arabic. The agreement also includes $2 million worth of frankincense, traded through the private sector. China's exports to Sudan usually include textiles, stationery, building materials, light industrial products, canned food, glass, tea, medicines, tyres and tubes, chemicals, rice and porcelain. Many of these products were on Sudan's list of banned imports issued in August 1983, but for those which are not made locally, or for which there are deficits in local production, exemption may be granted.

Permanent co-ordination group on trade relations with EEC set up

Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia have set up a permanent co-ordination group to deal with trade relations with the EEC. The Maghreb countries, particularly Morocco and Tunisia, are concerned about the possible effects on their exports to the EEC when it is enlarged to include Spain and Portugal; they fear their privileged trading status, already threatened by restrictive EEC practices, could deteriorate further when Spain and Portugal join. These countries produce the citrus fruit, olive oil and early vegetables which Morocco and Tunisia sell to the EEC.

ANDEAN PACT - EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY

Five-year agreement

Following almost four years of discussions, the new agreement between the ten EEC member States and the five countries of the Andean Pact (Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Venezuela) was concluded in Brussels on 28 October 1983. The agreement is a framework for non-preferential co-operation between the countries of the two regions and has been concluded for an initial period of five years. In addition to applying the GATT Most-Favoured-Nation Clause, both sides agree to promote the development and diversification of trade and to encourage all aspects of economic co-operation.

Trade between the two regions had expanded significantly, with exports from the Andean Pact increasing by some 150 per cent between 1976 and 1982 and EEC exports increasing by some 50 per cent over the same period.

Expansion of preferential trading arrangements

With effect from July 1983, another 268 items have been added to the ASEAN Preferential Trading Arrangements (PTAs), under which tariff relief is granted to goods traded between the five ASEAN member countries.

The implementing decree, a follow up to the PTA among ASEAN countries for imports valued at between US$2.5 million and US$10 million, divides the 268 items into the following three groups:

- The first group which is granted 20 per cent import tariff reduction consists of 132 items ranging from sugar confectionery, tobacco, cement, carbon black, various chemical materials to drilling and boring machines, and a wide range of machine tools.

- The second group which is granted 20 per cent reduction consists of 121 items, including maize, calcium carbonate, tetra-ethyl lead, tubes and pipes, knitting machines, pile drivers, circular saws, disposable syringes and electricity supply meters.

- The third group consists of fifteen items which are granted tariff reductions ranging from 20 per cent to 35 per cent as follows:

  - 20 per cent tariff reduction is granted for palm oil acid; vegetable ghee; lubricant additives; reclaimed rubber; packaging materials of foil, backed with paper printed or unprinted; moulds for glass; and fibre-tip pens.

  - 30 per cent reduction is granted for refined cane sugar; sorbitol; cigarette tipping cut to size, seeders; planters and transplanters; fertilizer distributors; and manure spreaders.

  - 35 per cent reduction is granted for surgical rubber gloves.

ECONOMIC COMMUNITY OF THE STATES OF CENTRAL AFRICA (ECSCA)

On 19 October 1983 a treaty was signed in Libreville, Gabon, setting up the Economic Community of the States of Central Africa (ECSCA). The treaty was signed by ten of the eleven States attending the meeting: Cameroon, Gabon, Congo People's Republic, Central African Republic, Zaire, Rwanda, Burundi, Chad, Equatorial Guinea and Sao Tome and Principe. Angola, which pleaded for more time because of its present war situation, did not sign.

The Community aims to "promote and reinforce harmonious co-operation" between members, to abolish customs tariffs and other restrictions on trade between member States; and to set up a common external customs tariff. It also hopes to achieve the eventual free movement of people, goods and capital. A co-operation and development fund will be set up in which the land-locked, island or least developed members will be given priority. An initial period of 12 years has been proposed to implement proposals.

In agriculture, a policy of regional food security is to be promoted. In industry, a common investment code is to be set up and Community projects are to be evenly distributed. Transport links are to be co-ordinated to achieve greater efficiency.

ECSCA Heads of State will meet annually to define general policy. A Council of Ministers will meet twice a year. Community organizations will include a general secretariat, a court of law and a consultative commission made up of experts nominated by member States.

SOUTHERN AFRICA DEVELOPMENT CO-ORDINATION CONFERENCE (SADCC)

Guidelines on trade and payments

On 27 October 1983, Trade and Finance Ministers of the nine-nation Southern Africa Development Co-ordination Conference (SADCC) member States, meeting in Tanzania, agreed on guidelines and an action programme aimed at expanding intra-SADCC trade. A communiqué issued at the end of the meeting said that the guidelines and action programme would be submitted for consideration to the Council of Ministers meeting scheduled to be held in Zambia in January 1984.

The guidelines include trade mechanisms and modalities and payments arrangements that are aimed at easing restrictions and expanding trade between the SADCC member States. Special emphasis is laid on the reduction of the use of foreign exchange in conducting trade between member States.

The meeting was attended by Ministers from Angola, Botswana, Lesotho, Malawi, Mozambique, Zambia, Zimbabwe and Tanzania.
