The sentence beginning on the twentieth line of Baron EHJ Tinck's statement should read:

"He would seek further clarification on this point. The fact was recognized that the maintenance of high price levels for agricultural products by the United States had stimulated production in many countries and, under this protective umbrella, their speedy recovery from the damage caused by the last world war was made possible."

The speaker for Czechoslovakia should read "Mr. AUGENTHALER"

The second sentence of Mr. GRANDY's remarks should read:

"His delegation was pleased to hear that it might be possible to include in the treaty a clause establishing a definite period of ten years for the achievement of the Customs Union."