ARTICLE VI

Proposals by the Czechoslovak Delegation

In order to remove the difficulties caused by the application of certain standards relating to the definition of normal value contained in paragraph 1 of Article VI - which difficulties are due to the fact that no comparison of export prices with prices in the domestic market of the exporting country is possible when such domestic prices are not established as a result of fair competition in that market but are fixed by the State - the definition of normal value given in paragraph 1 should be amended as follows:

Redraft sub-paragraph (b) of paragraph 1 to read:

"(b) in the absence of such domestic price or when the price in the domestic market is fixed by the State, is less than either:

(i) the average comparable prices for the like product for export by any third country to the country in question in the ordinary course of trade, or,

(ii) in the absence of such prices, the average comparable price for the like product for export by the country in question to any third country in the ordinary course of trade, or,

(iii) the cost of production of the product in the country of origin plus a reasonable addition for selling cost and profit.

Due allowance shall be made ..... (rest unchanged)."
