Page 13, items 13 (b) and (c) should read as follows:

(b) NORDTEST

Membership: Technical bodies in Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden.

Activities: A joint body for promoting development in the field of technical testing (NORDTEST methods). Issues of test methods which are recommended for joint use within the Nordic countries. NORDTEST has so far issued 382 methods.

(c) Nordic Scheme for Electrical Equipment

Operating rules: The scheme operates on the basis of 2 agreements from 1963 and 1969 between the Institutes for Testing and Approval of Electrical Equipment of Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden (DEMKO, SESKO, NEMKO, and SEMKO), on mutual recognition of tests of electrical equipment and appliances in connexion with national approval arrangements.

In 1975 the Nordic countries signed the so-called Copenhagen Agreement, according to which electrical products manufactured outside the Nordic countries can pass the Electrical Inspectorate of a Nordic country without reinspection, provided they have been inspected in another Nordic inspection institute and this is certified appropriately. The Agreement, initially concluded for five years, has been made permanent in 1980.
