It is suggested that at an early date the General Committee should propose to the Conference the setting up of a Central Drafting Committee to ensure:

(a) the production of a clear and consistent text and
(b) the identity of the texts drafted in the official languages of the United Nations.

I suggest that the General Committee should decide in principle immediately on recommending the establishment of such a Drafting Committee and should instruct the Secretariat to submit detailed proposals. An immediate decision in principle would be of assistance to Chairmen of Committees and avoid a multiplication of Drafting Committees for each Chapter of the Charter.
