Third Committee: Commercial Policy

Corrigendum to the Summary Record of the Fourteenth Meeting

Page 4, line 12, of document E/CONF.2/C.3/SR.14 that reads:

"Mr. D'ASCOLI (Venezuela) said his delegation reserved its right to make observations at the second reading of Article 20 as it was awaiting instructions from its Government. Venezuela had never made use of quantitative restrictions, but might find it necessary to take certain measures in the future in order to make appropriate use of its available foreign exchange, since its export trade depended largely on a single mineral product."

should read:

"Mr. D'ASCOLI (Venezuela) said his delegation reserved its right to make observations at the second reading of Article 20 as it was awaiting instructions from its Government. Venezuela had very seldom made use of quantitative restrictions, but might find it necessary to take certain measures in the future in order to make appropriate use of its available foreign exchange, since its export trade depended largely on a single mineral product. Such a dependence made advisable to select imports as a means to promote a diversified production."
