United States delegation now proposes that this exception be handled by amending Article 94 as follows:

Article 94 (c) (new paragraph)

To prevent any Member from entering into or carrying out any agreement made by or for a military establishment for the purpose of meeting essential requirements of national security.

It is believed that the revised wording meets those delegations which felt that the exception should be drafted as narrowly as possible consistent with achieving adequately the purposes of the exception.

Article 94 contains the other security exceptions of the Charter and is the logical place for this amendment.
