The second paragraph relating to Article 99, on page 4, should read:

"The delegate of Mexico stated that since several countries might encounter difficulties of a constitucional character for acceptance of the Charter, which was not in Spanish, he reserved the right to raise the same arguments which have been expounded in the Sub-Committee against his amendment, particularly in regard to proposed amendments to Article 92, and also reserved his right to introduce a new amendment to Article 99, paragraph 3, when this Article comes up for discussion in Committee VI."
