2. This Charter shall enter into force on the sixtieth day following the day on which twenty nations representing at least more than fifty per cent of the world trade shall have deposited instruments of acceptance pursuant to paragraph 1 of this Article, provided one year has elapsed since the date of signature of the Final Act of the Havana Conference on Trade and Employment.