The conference, noting with sympathy the desire of delegations of countries not members of the United Nations to be accorded equal voting rights with other delegations, but, considering that the decision of the Economic and Social Council which was duly reported to the Assembly of the United Nations cannot with propriety be set aside, resolves to interpret the Council's decision specifically as applying only to formal decisions of the Conference taken by a roll call vote.