
On page 46, in the first line of the statement made by me, the word "Brazilian" should read "New Zealand".

On page 47, 4th line, the same change.

On page 48, the 2nd and 3rd sentences should read "There were two possible approaches which had to be considered when the first draft of the Charter was prepared. One approach was to establish an organization with the function of promoting world trade, but without specific obligations on Members. The second was to include in the Charter various specific obligations. The second approach was the one chosen for better or for worse -- I believe for the better.

In the 8th line, the words "to specific" should read "upon specific".

On page 49, 2nd line, the word "take" should be "make".
