Page 16:

4th line: substitute "sin" for "in",

14th line: substitute the words "in a position" for the word "allowed" and insert the words "without breaking down the whole structure" after the word "right”;

15th and 16th lines: delete the sentence "and I suggest that that rule should not be applied".

That portion of the first paragraph appearing after the word "formulated" in the 3rd line, should read as follows:

"... and which, I think, has given everybody the impression that it means a great deal more than it actually does mean and what, I am convinced, the countries proposing it had meant by it – that is, the so-called mixing regulations."
