Amendment to Article 30, Subsidies, Proposed By the Delegation of New Zealand

Article 30, Paragraph (3)

A system for the stabilization of the \( \text{domestic price} \) returns to domestic producers of a primary product, which sometimes results in the sale of the product for export at a price lower than the comparable price charged for the like product to buyers in the domestic market paid to domestic producers of the product, may be determined by the Organization not to be a subsidy on exportation under the terms of paragraph (2), if it has at times resulted in the sale of the product for export at a price higher than the comparable price charged for the like product to domestic buyers paid to domestic producers of the product, and if the system is so operated, either because of the effective limitation of production or otherwise, as not to unduly stimulate exports or otherwise seriously prejudice the interests of other members.
