4. In such arrangements participating countries, which are largely dependent for consumption on imports of the commodity involved shall, in determinations made relating to substantive matters, have together a voice equal to that of those largely interested in obtaining export markets for the commodity, provided that those countries, which are largely interested in the commodity but which do not fall precisely under either of the above classes, shall have an appropriate voice. Provided also that said consuming or exporting countries will not oppose the adoption of necessary measures to a reasonable price increase for said product, when the price has had an appreciable decrease as compared with a prior representative period, or when current prices do not cover total production costs and would substantially affect the economy of one or more member-countries which represent a considerable portion of the total output of said product.
