NOTE TO DELEGATIONS REGARDING DOCUMENTS DISTRIBUTION

1. A) Distribution of ICITO/ documents in general (both during and between meetings).
   (i) "Unrestricted" with no further indication - to all governments, specialized agencies, and some non-governmental organizations and libraries.
   (ii) Unrestricted or Restricted - "Limited A" - to all governments and specialized agencies.
   (iii) Restricted - "Limited B" - to all governments.

   Note: There may of course be certain documents restricted to the members of the Interim Commission only.

B) It is proposed to send documents through the permanent representatives to the European Office of the United Nations or the Consulates or Legations in Geneva and Berne of those countries which have such offices, for re-transmission. The Secretariat suggests that, since surface mail is very slow, countries which do not have representatives in Switzerland might wish to indicate some address where documents can be sent for re-transmission in order to arrive more quickly.

C) During meetings of the Interim Commission certain classes of documents, such as daily agendas, sub-committee documents and working papers, will be distributed only to participants and observers present.

2. Delegations and observers at these meetings are advised that they will be responsible for forwarding documents to their respective governments throughout the meetings; the documents service will not be able to make a double distribution when there are delegations present at the Palais.

3. No complete sets of the documents of the meetings will be available at any time, although Delegations may of course request additional copies of individual documents.
