As at 8 November 1994, there were 30 signatories to the Agreement: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Bolivia, Canada, Chile, Czech Republic, Egypt, the European Communities, Finland, Hong Kong, Hungary, India, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Nigeria, Norway, Pakistan, Philippines, Poland, Romania, Singapore, Slovak Republic, Slovenia, South Africa, Sweden, Switzerland, the United States and Yugoslavia.<sup>1</sup> Argentina and Bolivia have signed the Agreement subject to ratification.
3. The following 30 governments have observer status in the Committee on Import Licensing: Bangladesh, Brazil, Bulgaria, China, Chinese Taipei, Colombia, Côte d'Ivoire, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Gabon, Ghana, Indonesia, Israel, Jamaica, Republic of Korea, Malaysia, Malta, Nicaragua, Peru, the Russian Federation, Senegal, Sri Lanka, Tanzania, Thailand, Trinidad and Tobago, Tunisia, Turkey, Venezuela and Zaïre. Developments since the Committee's last report

4. During the period under review, the Committee has held two meetings, on 5 May 1994 (LIC/M/34), and 3 November 1994 (LIC/M/35, to be issued). The Committee has held 35 regular meetings since the Agreement came into force.<sup>2</sup>
5. During the reporting period, copies of publications containing information on new rules concerning import licensing procedures or lists of products subject to licensing requirements were made available to the Secretariat as and when published (LIC/3/Add.39 and 40). In addition, 11 signatories have brought up-to-date the data supplied by them in response to the GATT Questionnaire on Import Licensing Procedures (annexed to L/5640/Rev.10). The current status of replies to the questionnaire by signatories (issued as addenda to L/5640) is annexed.
6. At its meeting of 5 May 1994, Mexico and the United States expressed concern that the European Communities had not eliminated the discriminatory features of its import licensing system for bananas, found to be inconsistent with GATT rules. Hungary expressed concern about a discriminatory import licensing requirement maintained by Austria on a number of products originating in some countries, including Hungary. The United States referred to the information which is required to be provided to the Committee in the context of tariffication of agricultural non-tariff barriers and also to the requirement for information from observer governments relevant to matters within the purview of the Agreement.

7. At its meeting of 3 November 1994, the representative of the United States expressed her Government's continuing concern over the discriminatory aspects of the European Communities' import licensing regime for bananas, which, in her view, was clearly inconsistent with a number of provisions of the GATT and the Agreement on Import Licensing Procedures. The United States further noted that the European Communities had failed to notify the licensing regime for bananas to the Committee. The representative of the European Communities did not agree with the views expressed by the United States, and explained the European Communities' position on this matter. In this context, the Committee also heard statements from the representatives of Australia and Ecuador. At the same meeting, the Committee took note of information provided by Switzerland concerning modifications to its import licensing system to further liberalize the licensing requirements for wine.
